nett, 46; Claudia Jones, 37. In back row are: Simon Gerson, who was acquitted in 1952; William Wolf Weinstein, 55; Isadore Bergun; Alexander Trachtenberg, 67, founder of the party's newspaper; Albert Lannon, 45, and Pettie Perry, 56. The 13 whose appeals were rejected had been sentenced to one to three years in prison and fines of 2 to 6 thousand dollars. (NEA Telephoto)

Rathnaw Loses Liquor Control Commission Job

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams dropped Anthony J. Rathnaw from the State Liquor Control Commission today and in his place put Joseph L. Wisniewski of Detroit, former U. S. marshal for the eastern district of Michigan.

Rathnaw was partially consoling for the loss of his $9,000-a-year liquor post by appointment to the State Economic Development Commission, an unsalaried job.

Williams said "Rathnaw's services are badly needed" on the Economic Development Commission. The governor said it was fortunate that Rathnaw was in such a good financial position he could afford to relinquish the salaried job.

Thus Williams made good on rumors that Rathnaw would be dropped at the end of his term for publicly advocating that the state get out of the liquor business. Williams, a former liquor commissioner himself, had called Rathnaw on the carpet for this recommendation.

Wisniewski, 49, was U. S. marshal from 1948 to 1954. He formerly was investigator and store manager for the liquor commission and has served on the State Fair Board.

Rathnaw succeeds Barney B. Taylor of Detroit, resigned, for a term expiring Sept. 16, 1955.

Williams also named Alfred V. Meyers, of Detroit, a school teacher and Democratic chairman for the 17th Congressional District, to the State Board of Tax Appeals. He succeeds Horace Gilmore, the new deputy attorney general.

Russians To Free Louisiana Soldier, Prisoner 5 Years

WASHINGTON (AP)—Pvt. William Verdine, a prisoner of the Russians for five years, may soon be back in Starks, La., with the "happiest mother there ever was."

The State Department announced last Tuesday that the Soviet government had agreed to turn over the 28-year-old soldier to U. S. authorities in Berlin. The date for Verdine's repatriation will be set later.

Airmen Believed Alive

Less than two weeks ago, the Russians said blandly Verdine's whereabouts were not known. But since that time, two other Americans freed by the Soviets after years in captivity have reported seeing Verdine at the notorious Vorkuta slave labor camp in arctic Russia.

One of these newly freed Americans, John H. Noble, 31, of Detroit, told a Berlin news conference yesterday he believes eight American Navy airmen shot down over the Baltic Sea nearly five years ago may be alive in Soviet prison camps. The Navy has listed them as dead.

Noble, who spent 9½ years as a Red prisoner, and Pvt. William C. Marchuk, 30, of Norristown, Pa., who like Verdine was held for five years, were freed by the Russians last Saturday.

A four-engine Navy Privateer vanished April 8, 1950, while on a training mission over the Baltic. The United States charged Russian fighters had shot down the unarmed craft. A year later, the Navy announced that it considered the 10 missing crewmen legally dead.

Mother Happy

But Noble said it was common knowledge at Vorkuta that some Americans who came down in the Baltic were in a Soviet prison.

When news of Army Pvt. Verdine's impending release reached his home town, Mrs. Willie Verdine, a 55-year-old widow, exclaimed she was the "happiest mother there ever was." She promised a "big party . . . when he comes home."

Mrs. Verdine, mother of six, said she had given up hope of ever seeing her soldier son again until eight months ago when she said she received a card from him. She said she got another card about six weeks ago and that Verdine told her then he was "well and hoped to be home soon."

Marchuk and Verdine were picked up by the Russians in Soviet-occupied East Germany in 1949.

Marchuk now is in Army detention, facing a possible court martial for being absent without leave. Noble said Marchuk "told me he got picked up in the Soviet sector (of Berlin) while drunk."

Truck Drivers Receive Raise

CHICAGO (AP)—Trucking companies and their drivers in 12 mid-western states have agreed to three part wage and mileage rate increases during the next three years.

An agreement was reached Tuesday covering 54,000 long-distance truck drivers in the AFL Teamsters Union and 4,000 truck-operating companies.

The contract will go into effect Feb. 1. It calls for an hourly wage boost of 10 cents to $2.07 on that date, followed by another 8 cents a year later and an additional 8 cents on Feb. 1, 1957.

On the same dates mileage rates will increase 4 cent a mile each year. The present rate is 7.125 cents. Drivers making 202 or fewer miles a day will be on an hourly basis; those above that mark will go on a mileage basis.

A minimum of $75 a week is a part of the agreement, which also provides for a four-week vacation after 20 years instead of the present maximum of three weeks after 12 years.

In addition to the states wholly covered, the areas of Tulsa, Okla., and Louisville, Ky., also are included. The states are Illinois, Iowa, Indiana, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, North Dakota, Ohio, South Dakota Wisconsin and Kansas.

Aid For Alcoholics

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—The city commission Tuesday approved $15,000 for operation of a $30,000 program for rehabilitation of alcoholics in Grand Rapids during the next six months. The State Board on Alcoholism Monday granted $15,000 state aid for the program.

Chicago Father Gets Death Sentence For Killing Family Of 4

CHICAGO (AP)—Prosecutors finally have achieved a goal sought through four trials — a death sentence for a man accused of wiping out his family of four that he might marry an unwed mother he met in a tavern.

A Criminal Court jury Tuesday night convicted Vincent Ciucci, 29-year-old grocer, of murder for the third time and this jury of three women and nine men recommended the electric chair.

Judge Arthur J. Murphy is bound by law to pronounce the sentence recommended by the jury for the murder of Ciucci's 9-year-old name-sake son. The verdict was returned after scarcely two hours deliberation.

Ciucci's wife, Anne, 28; son, Vincent Jr.; and daughters Vir-

Dog Saved In Lake As Boy, 14, Drowns

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Jeff Yost, 15, heard a splash in Pleasant Lake last night. A dog began to yelp. Investigating, Jeff found that a cocker spaniel had fallen through the ice.

The boy called for help. Rescuers came and pulled the dog from the water.

Later, Jeff noticed that his skating buddy, James Burkhardt, 14, was missing. Sheriff's officers and firemen recovered James' body from the lake.

Troops Attack To Quell Revolt In Costa Rica

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, (AP)—Costa Rican troops launched an attack at dawn today on rebel forces which seized the Villa Quesada area.

The Costa Rican command announced the rebel force — variously estimated between 40 and 100 men — was outgunned and withdrawing slowly under assault of troops bolstered by ammunition flown in by a Costa Rican plane from the U. S. - controlled Panama Canal Zone.

A command spokesman said the superior firepower of the government's forces was the principal factor in the slow withdrawal of the rebels from their outlying positions.

There was no immediate mention of casualties.

President Jose Figueres' government had promised decisive action today to quell the revolt at Villa Quesada, a Costa Rican town at the edge of a wide jungle belt along Costa Rica's frontier with Nicaragua. The attack was launched at 5:35 a.m.

Villa Quesada and some nearby villages were taken over Tuesday by airborne units which government spokesman described as "presumably Nicaraguan." A small detachment of the civil guard there was overwhelmed.

Convicted Texas Killer Executed

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—A young convicted killer who had invited to his execution the detectives who caught him, the men who prosecuted him and the jurors who tried him died early today in the electric chair.

None of those he had invited were there. He did not even bother to read a statement he had written questioning the death sentence.

Donald Hawkins Brown, 24, was brought into the state prison death chamber at 12:02 a.m., while outside the prison walls his young wife, mother of two children, and his mother waited. He surveyed the chamber, a half smile on his face, and remarked:

"I don't see the district attorney or any of the prosecutors here."

Then he was strapped in the death chair. The first electric charge struck him at 12:04 a.m. and he was pronounced dead two minutes later.

Flying Boxcars Burst In Flames; 71 Jump Safely; 2 Men Missing

SEWART AIR FORCE BASE, Tenn. (AP)—Engine blazes in two C-119 Flying Boxcars marred a paratrooper airlift to Alaska Tuesday with a flaming crash here and a forced landing in Montana.

A total of 68 paratroopers and 3 airmen parachuted to safety from the two planes, but the pilot and co-pilot of the plane which crashed here were listed as dead. The public information office identified the two as Capt. John Raspet Jr., 30, of 17 Franklin St., Mt. Clemens, Mich., the pilot, and co-pilot Ross W. Richards, 30, of Jacksonville, Fla. Parts of their bodies were removed from the burned wreckage.

Thirty-five airborne infantrymen and three crewmen jumped when an engine burst into flames shortly after the twin-engine craft took off here.

Only hours earlier, 33 paratroopers used their chutes when an engine caught fire on their plane near Miles City, Mont. Pilot-Capt. T.G. Johnson of Sewart AFB then guided the plane to the Miles City airport without incident.

The two Boxcars were part of a flight of 40 ferrying 3,000 airborne troops from Ft. Campbell, Ky., to Alaska for Operation Snowbird, a winter exercise. Paratroopers involved in both jumps were members of the 503rd Airborne Infantry Regiment.

The crash scene here was about three miles from the base. Witnesses said the plane spun nose first into the earth, then burst into "a great mushroom of fire and smoke."

Second Lt. James Reynolds, Melbourne, Fla., platoon leader of the paratroopers aboard, said his men thought it was a drill when the crew chief ordered them to prepare to jump.

The troopers bailed out at 8,000 feet. One man, Pfc. Richard L. Dalton, Benton Harbor, Mich., was hospitalized overnight with minor injuries.

The troopers in Montana landed on both sides of the Yellowstone River. They jumped from a height of about 600 feet.

The big Boxcars have been taking off at 30-minute intervals from here since 6 a.m. Monday with the last flights clearing early today.

Move To Lower Lake Michigan Level Revived

CHICAGO (AP)—Lake Michigan shore property owners are planning another effort to lower the lake level by increased diversion of water into the Illinois Waterway.

Albert J. Meserow, attorney for the Assn. for the Protection of Great Lakes Property, Inc., said Tuesday he will go to Washington soon for this purpose.

President Eisenhower vetoed a bill which would have permitted an additional 1,000 cubic feet of water per second to be drained into the waterway, after the last session of Congress approved it. The present authorized rate of diversion is 1,500 cubic feet per second.

Meserow said, "The present levels of Lake Michigan are six inches higher than in the winter of 1953 because of excessive rainfall during the last year. During 1954, more than 100 million dollars in damage to lake front properties was caused by the high levels."

Meserow said the association has Indiana, Wisconsin, Michigan and Illinois property owners among its members.

Report Awaited On Peiping Talks

TOKYO (AP)—U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold flew homeward over the Pacific tonight on his way to report to the U.N. and the world on his efforts to free 11 Americans and other U.N. prisoners held by the Communists.

He is due in New York Thursday. The date for his report has not been announced.

Hammarskjold and his party stopped in Tokyo less than an hour on the trip from Peiping to New York.

He has refused steadily to give any indication of the results of his four talks with Red China's Premier and Foreign Minister Chou En-lai.

Hammarskjold's U.S. Air Force Constellation was due in Hawaii this morning, Hawaii time. It should arrive in San Francisco later today.

Rockefeller Gives 20 Million To Help Religious Education

NEW YORK (AP)—John D. Rockefeller Jr. has given 20 million dollars' worth of securities to aid Protestant theological education in the United States.

The gift was made Tuesday to the Sealantic Fund Inc., a philanthropic corporation Rockefeller established in 1938.

The financier and philanthropist previously had donated more than 245 million dollars in his larger known benefactions, plus substantial gifts that never were made public. The gifts included at least 30 million dollars for religious causes.

Houghton Farmer Drowned On Tractor

HOUGHTON (AP)—William Niml, 28, was drowned Tuesday when his tractor broke through three inches of ice on Otter Lake, about 15 miles south of Houghton. A companion, Paul Myllyla, about 30, was thrown onto solid ice as the tractor went down in 12 feet of water. Police said the two farmers had been taking a short-cut across the lake between their two farms.

Airplanes Collide Near Cincinnati; 15 Persons Dead

BURLINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Fifteen persons were believed to have been killed today in a mid-air crash between two large airplanes several miles southwest of the greater Cincinnati Airport. The aircraft is 12 miles southwest of Cincinnati.

One of the planes was a trans world airlines ship enroute to Dayton and Cleveland. The other plane was not identified immediately, but was believed to be carrying two persons.

TWA identified the crew members as Capt. J. W. Quinn, 41, Edgemont Ave., Belleville, Mich.; R. Childress, co-pilot, 1824 Arch St., Ann Arbor, Mich., and Miss Pat Sterner, hostess, 731 Towner, Ypsilanti, Mich.

From Battle Creek

The other plane, a Douglas DC-3, bearing serial number N-99-B was understood to have taken off from Battle Creek, Mich., with pilot Arthur (Slim) Werkhaven, Sturgis, Mich., and co-pilot Edward Agner, Battle Creek, board. The information came in a telephone call to the airport at Battle Creek.

Also reported to have been aboard the TWA plane was Robert Sobul, about 38, Columbus, Ohio, district manager for Swank Jewelry, Inc.

Paul D. Strahm, Columbus, TWA passenger representative, said it was the first domestic accident experienced by TWA airliners since Dec. 1, 1944.

The Civil Aeronautics Authority control tower at the Greater Cincinnati Airport said it had no knowledge there was any other plane but the TWA within miles of the area.

Bodies Scattered

"As far as we knew the TWA plane was the only one in the area," the tower operator stated. "We had no culls or flight plan to indicate any other plane was within miles of the area."

The planes fell two miles apart, according to John Hedrick, operator of a flying service. One of the first men to fly over the scene, he said he doubted there were any survivors.

He said he saw bodies lying about a 200 yard area.

Later at Battle Creek, Mich., the National Carbon Coated Paper Co. of Sturgis, Mich., identified the DC-3 as a plane belonging to that firm which took off at 8 a. m.

Old Guard Wins First GOP Tiff In Legislature

LANSING (AP)—The Michigan Senate, as its first order of business, today refused temporarily to seat Senator-elect Anthony J. Wilkowski (D-Detroit) until an investigation is made of his qualifications.

The Republican majority blocked Wilkowski's attempt to be sworn in until a committee passes on a proposal that his seat be declared vacant because he was convicted in 1934 of an election recount fraud. The vote not to seat him was 21-11.

The Legislature convened at noon with the closely drawn Republican and Democratic blocks eyeing the 1956 election.

Gov. Williams, rushing last-minute drafts of his message, is expected to make better highways and better schools the theme of his newly-begun fourth term.

The Republican legislative majority, slimmer than in many years, buzzed with counter-proposals of its own and fears that Williams' program will lead to higher taxes.

In the house, the Republican majority reported itself "unified" after a brisk fight over the leadership. In the Senate, the Republican majority was divided over seating a Detroit Democrat.

A closed Republican caucus in the House Tuesday saw the so-called "Young Turks" wrestle the old guard for leadership, win a partial victory and then swear their loyalty to the party again.

Speaker Re-elected

A similarly secret caucus of Republicans in the Senate produced no formal decision on the question of seating Sen. Anthony J. Wilkowski (D-Detroit), who was re-elected a seat in 1951 for a 1934 conviction on charges of election recount frauds.

But, Republicans friendly to Wilkowski said they feared they could not muster more than three or four votes on his behalf among their colleagues and that would be at least one short of the number needed to seat him.

Rep. Wade Van Valkenburg (R-Kalamazoo) was elected unanimously to his second term as speaker of the House. Van Valkenburg is entering his fifth term in the House.

A margin of 13 kept the speaker pro tem post in the hands of the so-called Republican "old guard."

Message Thursday

Rep. Andrew Bolt (R-Grand Rapids) defeated Rep. Richard G. Smith (R-Bay City) to become speaker pro tem. The vote was 31-25. On a motion by Smith himself, the vote was made unanimous. Smith is one of the so-called "Young Turks," or younger members of the House.

The "Young Turks" won a partial victory in their fight for power with the election of Rep. Allison

Second-String Reds Begin Prison Terms

NEW YORK (AP)—Thirteen second-string Communist leaders were behind bars today starting to serve prison terms for conspiracy to teach and advocate violent overthrow of the government.

Rounded up after the U.S. Supreme Court turned down their appeal, the 13 were denied further bail late Tuesday.

The nine male defendants were taken to the Federal House of Detention and the three women to the City Women's House of Detention. From there they will be sent to federal penitentiaries to serve terms ranging from one to three years.

In addition to the prison terms, the 13 were ordered to pay fines of from $2,000 to $6,000. Their sentences:

Three years and fines of $6,000 — Elizabeth Gurley Flynn, 63; Alexander Bittelman, 63; Pettis Perry, 56; Alexander Trachtenberg, 67; Victor J. Jerome, 56; Louis Weinstock, 49; Arnold S. Johnson, 48.

Two years and $4,000 — Albert F. Lannon, 45; Jacob Mindel, 71; William W. Weinstein, 55; George Blake Charney, 47; Betty Gannett, 46.

One year and $2,000 — Claudia Jones, 37.

Tavern Slayer Is Electrocuted

TRENTON, N. J. (AP)—Visibly frightened, 45-year-old Eugene Monahan went to his death in the electric chair Tuesday night for the tavern slayings of a bartender and a patron.

Monahan, who had trained his teen-aged son as an accomplice in a wave of robberies, was electrocuted for the fatal shootings which took place during a $53 holdup of the tavern in Elizabeth last year.

His son, Michael, was with him during the holdup. During the elder Monahan's trial, it was brought out that the father had fired the fatal shots. The father had spent more than a third of his lifetime behind prison bars.

Young Monahan, now 16, is serving an indefinite term in a state reformatory.

Teen Age Safety Conference Planned Here Thursday

High School Students Meet For Discussion

More than 100 students from high schools in this area will meet Thursday at the Escanaba High School in the second annual regional Teen Age Safety Conference. The meeting is sponsored by the Escanaba Daily Press in cooperation with the Michigan State Police, Northern Michigan College of Education and the Escanaba High School.

Registration will be from 9 to 9:30 a. m., and the first general session will be held at 9:30 in the auditorium of the Escanaba Senior High School. James Weber, of Holy Name High School, Escanaba, conference chairman, will preside and Edward E. Erick, principal of the Escanaba High School, will extend official greetings.

K. A. Wahtera, Northern Michigan College, will be the principal speaker at the general session. His subject is "What's It All About?" From 10 to 12 the conference delegates will meet in eight discussion groups.

Variety Of Subjects
Adult leaders of the discussion groups and the subject follow: John Bucky, safety supervisor of the Marquette Public Schools, "What does driver education mean to the student?"

Wiljo Sarkela, sociologist of the Child Guidance Center, Marquette, "Do driver classes reach enough students?" Should the course be compulsory?" "Is driver education the best way to learn to drive?"

Capt. Robert Murray, district commander, Michigan State Police, "Traffic laws and traffic courts."

Trooper Alfred LaPointe, Michigan State Police, "Do police and courts direct more of their attention to the teenager than is justified?" "What should be the minimum age limit for a driver's license?" "Should traffic law enforcement be uniform?" "Should there be uniform traffic court action in relation to the violator?" "Should teenagers be treated the same as adult violators?"

Family Car Problem
Mrs. Elmer Krause and Lawrence Erickson, Escanaba, parents of teenage drivers, "Teenager and the family car." This subject will include discussion on the following problems: "What responsibility does the teenage driver assume in return for the use of the family car?" "Do parents intelligently work with their teenage children to make them good drivers?" "How often do most teenagers get the family car?"

Dr. Wilbur West, psychologist, Northern State Teachers College, and Rev. Paul Cargo, Marquette, "The development of attitudes in teenage drivers." This discussion will include the following subjects: "What about the showoff driver?" "What are the morale aspects of driving?" "Is there a social responsibility one assumes in driving?" "How are the attitudes developed?"

K. A. Wahtera, Northern Michigan College, will talk to the teachers on the subject, "What's new in safety?"

Luncheon At Noon
There will be a luncheon at 12:30 at the Delta Hotel. Keith Molin, Escanaba High School, vice chairman of the conference, will preside. Shirley Bessolo, Negawana High School, and Patricia Pero, Marquette High School, selected as delegates to the state conference at other regional conferences, will talk briefly as will Ken Gunderman, editor of the Escanaba Daily Press. Entertainment will be provided by Escanaba students.

Group discussions will resume at 2 p. m., at the Escanaba Senior High School. The conference will be concluded with a general assembly at which delegates will be elected to the state conference. Rev. Paul Cargo, pastor of the First Methodist Church, Marquette, will be the concluding speaker. His topic will be "It's Up To You."

Escanaba High School delegates to the conference are Keith Molin, Marcia Weissert, Bob Zitzer, Ricky Erickson, John LeMire, Mary Ellen McMeekan, Cynthia Sogard, Lois Hendrickson, Robert Krause and Bertie Eckman.

Holy Name High School delegates are James Weber, Barbara Ottensmeyer, Jean LaBranche, Lorraine LaMarche, Richard Gasman, Quinn Rasmussen, Joanne Peterson, Marcia Root, Leroy Villeneuve and Joseph Juetten.

Delegates also are expected from Gladstone High School, Bark River-Harris High School, Rapid River High School, Nahma High School, Rock High School, Perkins High School, Cooks High School, Manistique High School and Treneer High School.

Reporters Invited; Murder Called Off By Ionia Officers
IONIA, Mich. (AP)—Robert Van Dyke, 45, called the Grand Rapids Herald and invited the newspaper to send a reporter and photographer to "cover a good murder." He said he was going to kill Howard Clagg, a hardware store owner, for dunning him about an overdue $75 bill.

The newspaper called sheriff's officers. Deputies said Van Dyke was waving a loaded shotgun at Clagg when they arrived.

Officers arrested Van Dyke and held him for investigation of attempted murder.

City Planning Body Will Meet Thursday

The Escanaba Planning Commission will meet at 7:30 p. m. Thursday in City Hall, with Chairman Jesse Pomazal presiding.

Officers will be elected by the Commission for the ensuing year. Other scheduled business is as follows: Recommendation on a preliminary plan for an assessor's plat of an acreage area east of the Escanaba Athletic Field. Revisions have been made as suggested at a meeting Dec. 9, 1954, and the plan will be submitted for final approval.

The man who wants to make a New Year's resolution he is sure he can keep should swear off swearing off.

Funds Jeopardized:

C.A.A. Undecided On Aid For Airport At Escanaba

Although strongly urged by the State Aeronautics Commission as in the "best interests of Michigan", an allocation of matching federal funds for airports at Escanaba and Iron Mountain still hangs in the balance today, awaiting the decision of the Civil Aeronautics Administration in Washington.

H. J. Norton, Escanaba, chairman of the Michigan Aeronautics Commission, said that following an emergency conference held Monday with C. A. A. officials in Washington, that the C. A. A. has taken under advisement the allocation proposals which include funds for Escanaba, Iron Mountain and other smaller Michigan airports.

The two Upper Peninsula airports are among 10 in the state recommended by the Michigan Aeronautics Commission to receive airport development funds on a matching basis. Both were originally listed to receive $30,000 each.

Omit U. P. Airports
The federal government allocated only to six airports, however, not including Escanaba or Iron Mountain and other smaller airports in the state. The total allocation was $551,530 as follows:

Willow Run, $100,000; Grand Rapids, $190,000; Flint, $60,000; Detroit-Wayne Major, $80,000; Lansing, $100,000; Muskegon, $21,530.

Gen. Lester J. Maitland, Lansing, director of the Michigan Department of Aeronautics, has expressed the Aeronautics Commission's "great concern about these C. A. A. allocations, particularly by the failure to allocate any funds for Benton Harbor, Iron Mountain and Escanaba, where aeronautical necessity really demanded immediate improvements on these airports."

Resubmit List
Following its protest to the C. A. A., the Michigan Aeronautics Commission was asked to resubmit proposals for allocation of federal funds granted to Michigan for airport improvement which "would best serve the aeronautical interest of Michigan."

This was done, with the proposed allocation list as follows: Willow Run $80,000, Lansing $66,000, Grand Rapids $90,000, Detroit-Wayne Major $80,000, Flint $30,000, Muskegon $65,530, Pontiac $30,000, Iron Mountain $30,000, Benton Harbor-St. Joseph $50,000, Escanaba $30,000.

The Commission also urged that some discretionary funds be made available to Michigan airports, since none had been forthcoming from $5,000,000 to be distributed nationally in this 1954-55 fiscal year.

Where Required
Following announcement of the Commission's allocation proposal, there was a protest from Congressman Ford over reduction of the funds for Grand Rapids airport. Gen. Maitland, however, noted that the funds had been allocated by C. A. A. for repayment of land purchase and defended the reduction.

"The Aeronautics Commission feels most strongly that rather than use federal grants for land cost repayment at this time, because of the very small total appropriation, we should engage in immediate improvement where necessity requires it most urgently," Gen. Maitland said.

In Washington Monday, to support the allocations as urged by the Aeronautics Commission, which include Escanaba and Iron Mountain, were Congressmen Victor Knox of Sault Ste. Marie and John Bennett of Ontonagon. Chairman H. J. Norton of the Aeronautics Commission summed up the Commission's position with the statement:

"Our recommended allocation is based on Michigan best interest, and it would be an injustice to alter it in any way."

WELCOMES INQUIRY
LANSING (AP)—Brig. Gen. Lester J. Maitland said today he would "welcome" an investigation of the State Aeronautics Department's dispute over allocation of federal funds for airport improvements.

"We not only welcome a probe," Maitland said, "but we are very much in favor of all the people knowing the facts."

Sen. Perry W. Greene (R-Grand Rapids) said he would ask for an investigation aimed at finding out why federal matching funds for certain Michigan communities were cut.

Maitland said the changes were made at the request of the Civil Aeronautics Administration. The commission's original program called for $695,000 in federal funds. This was pared down to $551,530.

Editorials—

Eisenhower's Message Suggests Confidence But Not Complacency

IF the American people take their cue from President Eisenhower, they will view the months ahead in this year 1955 with confidence but without complacency.

He told them in his State of the Union message to Congress that they have great reason to look hopefully into the future.

For the first time in long years, there is no active major battlefield anywhere on earth. And, after a 1954 marred by a business decline that caused some apprehension, the President could report that "business activity now surges with new strength."

Mr. Eisenhower obviously wants the American people to go about their tasks with renewed cheerfulness, with less tension than has marked their lives in the past decade and a half. He believes the facts of 1955 warrant such a mood.

But he is not willing to have them forget the menace of Russo-Chinese communism which hangs over them, nor ignore some of the shortcomings of their own way of living.

He reminded us military force is still the chief reliance of the Soviet Union, despite all the cooling words about "coexistence." He added that "their steadily growing power includes an increasing strength in nuclear weapons."

Mr. Eisenhower appreciates acutely the danger inherent in this mounting Russian atomic might, and wishes us all to share his awareness.

At the same time, he offers assurance undue alarm, in the shape of a defense program designed to stress our own air power and atomic force, at the expense of somewhat reduced ground armies. The lawmakers may quarrel over the details of this plan, but they can hardly contest it aims.

The President likewise would puncture any smugness we might feel about the upsurging home front. There are too many gaps and soft spots for us to view it with complete comfort. He has a program calculated to meet many of these problems.

This calls for federal aid to help meet the grave shortage of school classrooms, for higher minimum wages, more public housing, a comprehensive new highway program, federal health protection, some changes in the Taft-Hartley labor law, an attack on the juvenile delinquency problem, and continuing attention to the needs of farmers, especially drought sufferers.

As he prepares to tackle specifically the problems involved in assuring the nation's safety and prosperity, Mr. Eisenhower is not unmindful of the difficulty confronting a Republican President who must deal with a Democratic Congress.

With some eloquence and abundant good humor, he has appealed to his Democratic friends and opponents on Capitol Hill to approach the tasks of peace and prosperity in a spirit of national harmony and cooperation.

No one doubts he will find this spirit at work on all major matters of foreign policy and defense. Unity of attack is much less likely on domestic problems for somewhere, somehow, the Democrats must make a record in this Congress that can give them hope of regaining the White House in 1956.

Whatever politics may do to warp and reshape his projects, the President's outlook and program for 1955 appear to have the virtues of positiveness, sanity and moderation—underscored by keen alertness to the continuing peril facing America and all free lands.

SIR Winston Churchill is having to move out of No. 10 Downing Street for a few months. The traditional home of Britain's prime ministers needs shoring up but Sir Winston trudges on with few signs of the physical decay which has necessitated repairs to his residence—and utterly no signs that he will shut down, even for repairs.

Try And Stop Me By BENNETT CERF

A manic depressive stood poised at the roof edge of the tallest building in South Carolina, with a cop behind him trying desperately to dissuade him from jumping.

"Think of your maw and paw," begged the cop.

"Ain't got any," answered the would-be suicide.

"Your best girl, then."

"I hate women."

"Okay, then think about Robert E. Lee."

"Who's Robert E. Lee?"

"Wha-a-ah? Go ahead and jump, you damyankee!"

Kaiser Wilhelm's complex concerning his English cousins certainly played a part in hastening the outbreak of World War I. He was particularly incensed when he heard that Britain's Royal Family had changed its name to Windsor. He immediately ordered a Berlin production of Shakespeare's "The Merry Wives of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha."

The Doctor Says . . .

Eating High-Calorie Foods Helps in Gaining Weight

By EDWIN P. JORDAN M. D. — Written for NEA Service

A boy writes in that he is a freshman in high school and is extremely thin. "It seems," he says, "I just can't get fat and being thin is giving me an inferiority complex." A 27-year-old lady says that about 1½ years ago she lost 22 pounds and just can't seem to put on weight again. "The loss of this weight," she says, "has made me highly nervous and irritable at times."

Unless there is something left out of these letters it would seem that the excessive thinness of these two correspondents is causing more mental and emotional anguish than it is physical harm. Certainly excessive thinness suggests a complete physical examination to make sure that there is no physical disorder responsible for such an overactive thyroid gland or some deep-seated infection.

GENERALLY SPEAKING when no physical disorder is found, and this is perhaps usual, the answer to underweight is rather simple. It consists in eating more of those foods containing fats or which can be converted to fats.

When one is trying to gain weight, fats, meats, more butter or margarine, more cream, more sweets, potatoes, bread, cereals and other high calorie containing foods should be included in the diet. Of course, one should not stop eating fruits, vegetables, lean meat, milk, and eggs and other things of the kind which provide needed vitamins and minerals, since the diet should remain in balance when one is trying to gain.

ANOTHER THING which can be done is to eat more at each meal. The amount one eats is largely a matter of habit and this can be changed like any other habit. The stomach can be trained to hold more by gradually increasing the amount taken at each meal.

A practical way of accomplishing this is to eat until the appetite is satisfied and then always take a few more mouthfuls. After a while the appetite becomes better and the stomach holds more before it gets that full feeling.

IT IS ALSO fairly easy to take more food just by eating extra meals. A small mid-morning meal, an afternoon or bedtime snack of weight-gaining foods are helpful. A glass of half milk and half cream is a good example of what could be taken. Stopping smoking often leads to a gain in weight. Decreasing the exercise doesn't help much.

IN LOOKING AT the weight the human body should be considered like a machine in which the food serves as the fuel and if taken in excess can be stored by the body. Of course, the body, like a machine, uses up this fuel by all its activities, including exercise; but a person does not need to, and in fact should not, give up exercise merely because he is trying to gain.

Today And Tomorrow

By WALTER LIPPMANN

As between his first message delivered two years ago just after he became President and the message of last week, there is a marked change in the President's thinking. The change is not in his moral aims but in his ideas about high policy. He has changed his conception of what can be done in foreign policy, of what must be done in the management of the national economy, and of what should be done in regard to what is often called the welfare state.

In 1953 he believed that Mr. Dulles and he could define "a new positive foreign policy" which would put an end to what he called "the posture of paralyzed tension." This was to be done by what was then known as psychological warfare. It was hoped and believed that by public propaganda, diplomatic declarations, the signature of pacts, the holding of conferences, and by clandestine non-military operations, the Western world would begin to roll back the Communist empire.

There is no trace of that notion remaining in the 1955 message. Its aim is to find and if possible to stabilize a modus vivendi with the Communist world.

The 1955 message is notably different from 1953 in its theory of the government's relation to the ups and downs of the national economy. In 1953 the President's message sounded as if he believed that the balancing of the budget was the paramount consideration. In 1955, with a balanced budget not yet in sight, he has recommended a program which puts the national defense and the expansion of the economy and the welfare state ahead of the balancing of the budget.

In regard to welfare legislation the difference between the two messages is not, strictly speaking, in the theory. The difference is in the scope and the amount of the welfare measures. Whereas two years ago the President seemed to feel that welfare measures were something to be conceded reluctantly, in 1955 they kindle his enthusiasm. This difference in degree is so considerable that it is really a difference in kind.

FACTS OF LIFE

I do not believe that the evolution of President Eisenhower's thinking is explained fairly or truly by saying that he has become interested in politics and is bidding for Democratic and independent votes. The real reason for the change is that in 1953 he was still a theorist without practical experience in these matters. He had only recently begun to think seriously about the problems of high policy. In 1955 he has had two years to test his theories by the hard realities.

In 1955 the theories have had to give way to the facts of life. He has found that in spite of what the advertising blubs promised, psychological warfare is not a way of causing the great Communist imperial coalition to break down and to recede. He has found, too, in his practical experience with Indo-China last spring, what it is like to look over the rim of hell into the abyss of total war. He has felt it in himself, who had the awful responsibility of the decision, he knows how Congress and the people really feel about it, how our allies feel. In these two years he has adjusted his aims, which were dreamed up before he took office, to the real nature of the world and of the times we live in.

Practical experience, too, has taught him that the paramount consideration at home is not the balancing of the budget but the balancing of the national economy. There has been just enough recession to reveal how disastrous it would be if the recession were allowed to become worse. And this has made him more than willing to listen to those of his advisers who belong to the modern school of economics, who believe that the role of the government is not to balance the budget and then to be neutral but to take compensatory action in order to promote a stable growth in investment, consumption and production.

CAN'T ESCAPE REALITIES

There is not much sense in saying that the Eisenhower of 1955 is copying the Democrats. The great realities of foreign policy, of the national economy, and of the welfare measures of a democratic state are not a private possession of the Democrats. The truth of the matter is that the Democrats came to power some 20 years ago when the very survival of the democratic government against upheaval within and against aggression abroad demanded governments which could adjust themselves to the realities of this century. There is no escaping these realities.

The real trouble with the so-called right-wing Republicans, who deplore the present Eisenhower is that instead of opposing the mistakes, which were many and serious, made by the Democrats, they prefer to think that somehow the modern realities should never have come upon us and that somehow they might still be made to disappear. They are at odds with the history of the times they live in, wanting to find a world like that which existed before the wars, which existed before the great depression, which existed before the ordeal of modern mass democracy. That is what causes them to quarrel not only with the Democrats but also with Eisenhower and the Republicans who intend to make their theories fit the facts of modern life.

McCarthy Successor Promises Review On Ft. Monmouth Case

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Sen. John B. McClellan, Arkansas Democrat and new chairman of the Senate Investigating Subcommittee, promises that his group will promptly review and evaluate the explosive case of the Ft. Monmouth Army radar laboratories, which Senator McCarthy charged were shot through with subversion and espionage.

(The Army recently reinstated all but eight of more than 30 employees suspended from Ft. Monmouth while security charges against them were weighed.)

McClellan takes over the committee reins from McCarthy because the Democrats won the Senate in the 1954 elections.

In a question-and-answer interview especially for NEA Service he indicated, however, that he would have no special axe out for the present Republican administration. He promised instead simply to dig into waste, inefficiency and Red infiltration wherever and whenever they might occur in government.

Here follow the questions and the senator's replies:

Q. Will you ask the Government Operations Committee which you will lead to continue investigating communism through the Investigating Subcommittee?

A. I will not have to ask the Government Operations Committee to continue investigating communism. Under the present rules of the U. S. Senate, it is its duty to continue such investigations if and when it develops that there is reasonable grounds for believing or even a well-founded suspicion that Communists have infiltrated any agency of the Federal Government. Therefore, such investigations will continue if information before the Subcommittee warrants.

Q. If so, do you think it should continue to look into the Ft. Monmouth case?

A. Yes, we will review promptly the Ft. Monmouth case. We will make an evaluation of it. If there is further information that should be developed or Communist infiltration that should be exposed, the Subcommittee will finish the task already begun.

Q. Will the Government Operations Committee as organized by the Democrats automatically get all of the files of the Committee as it was directed by the Republicans?

A. I should, and I assume it will. The files of the Subcommittee are official files of the U. S. Senate and are not the property of any individual senator or staff member.

Q. What do you consider is the primary role of the Committee's Investigating Subcommittee?

A. The duty, responsibility and function of the Investigating Subcommittee are thoroughly covered by the rules of the Senate. Primarily, this Subcommittee was established to investigate and study efficiency and economy in government. The term "efficiency and economy in government" is so broad as to include Communist infiltration, as such might affect or have an impact upon government economy and efficiency.

Q. Will you permit live TV coverage of Committee hearings? Or where will you draw the line?

A. In my judgment, the Subcommittee shall have to determine in each instance whether the public interest will best be served by permitting Subcommittee hearings to be televised. I do not think we can have a hard or fixed rule either way — the peculiar circumstances of the situation should determine.

Q. Do you think the Committee should investigate any specific activities of the past two years of Republican administration? If so, what activities?

A. I do not think the Subcommittee should be partisan in any respect. It should investigate waste, extravagance, inefficiency and Communist infiltration wherever it has occurred and exists, either in the past or present administrations.

Q. Will you recommend that Committee hearings be conducted according to the rules of regular court procedure, especially as they apply to the admission of evidence?

A. No, not necessarily. In many instances, the rules of evidence in court procedure would be entirely too rigid to serve the legitimate objectives of an Investigating Committee. We must differentiate between evidence designed to establish guilt or innocence, and evidence necessary to provide information for Committee and legislative action.

Q. Do you anticipate any difficulty in getting full cooperation from the Republican administration in the securing of files or other information needed by the Committee in its work?

A. No. Of course, it is quite probable that in some instances the Subcommittee will desire and need information marked confidential which is in the files of the executive agencies. In such cases, we shall undertake to secure the release of that information to the Subcommittee by proper authorities. I do not anticipate and I trust no instances will occur in which the Subcommittee and the executive branch of the government will not be able to cooperate for the best interest of our government.

Q. Will you recommend the end of one-man hearings? How will you change hearing procedures generally from the way they have been conducted?

A. The answer is yes. I shall urge the Subcommittee to amend its rules to require the presence of at least two members of the Subcommittee to constitute a quorum for the holding of hearings, either executive or public. I am confident the Subcommittee will agree.

Incidentally, however, as chairman I can control that without a rule. I do not propose to hold hearings except that at least two members of the Subcommittee be present, and I would much prefer that all members should be present.

Edson In Washington

By PETER EDSON

(NEA Washington Correspondent) WASHINGTON—(NEA) — Officers and a group of the students of the new "Eisenhower Exchange Fellowships, Inc." are scheduled to call at the White House Jan. 11 for a first report on how their enterprise is getting along. There has been practically no publicity about these Eisenhower Exchange Fellowships. They are the creation of a relatively new foundation honoring the President.

For 1955, 12 fellowships have been granted and more are to come, up to a total of 20. Nine have gone to foreigners for special work in the U. S. and three to Americans for research abroad.

There are not the usual type of academic scholarship granted to professors, scientists or artists for postgraduate study.

Eisenhower fellows are to be carefully selected young business executives—25 to 40 years old—of demonstrated ability and a promising future in the field of their countries' greatest need. Each is to get a year's training in business leadership through practical, day-to-day experience in their special fields.

THEY ARE more like business-experience fellowships than abstract scholarships. This is called a manifestation of the new private enterprise, international business statesmanship, which the President praises highly.

The idea for the Eisenhower Exchange Fellowship originated with Thomas B. McCabe, president of Scott Paper Co. Some time after leaving his Washington job as chairman of the U. S. Federal Reserve Board, Mr. McCabe took a trip abroad. He came back convinced that there should be a closer relationship among the free world's business and professional people.

Mr. McCabe's idea was that private business had a direct responsibility in this field. Unless free world training for leadership were advanced, there never could be world unity.

He began to talk up his idea among his wide circle of business acquaintances. Thomas J. Watson of International Business Machines was made chairman of a finance committee. In little more than a year, he had pledges from 600 businessmen for an average of $500 apiece. Some gave only $250. A few gave $15,000 apiece. The total of $325,000 collected was enough to assure a full year's operation.

WHEN THE Pennsylvania Republicans gave President Eisenhower his whopping big 63rd birthday at Hershey, Pa., Oct. 14, 1953, Mr. McCabe and his associates spelled out their plan to the President. They asked his permission to call it the "Eisenhower Fellowships" as a birthday tribute to his contributions as soldier, statesman and leader.

The original idea had been only to bring foreign experts to America for advanced study. President Eisenhower thought that gave the impression this was the only country where anything could be learned. The program was therefore broadened to provide fellowships for American research abroad. Then it was in business.

Headquarters were recently moved from Harvard to New York. Edwin T. Gibson was made president and J. Hampton Barnes executive director. The Board of Trustees includes 50 names prominent in American business.

The first three Americans to receive fellowships are:

Theodore S. Repplier, Washington, president, Advertising Council of America. He will study information programs in Japan, Hongkong, India, Thailand and Italy, where Commie pressure is great.

Roger T. Gilmartin, New York, Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Beane, to study investment banking in western Europe.

GUY E. NOYES, Washington, Federal Reserve Board staff, to study central banking methods in western Europe.

The foreigners receiving Eisenhower fellowships are selected by local committees in countries which the U. S. State Department recommends as having special problems and needs.

Among the first Eisenhower fellows now in the U. S. are:

Akhury Sitanath, India, American railway operation methods.

Muhammad Ayub, Pakistan, financing of private industry.

Chalong Pungtrakul, Thailand, private business promotion.

Frederick S. Arkhurst, Gold Coast, public information programs.

Enrique A. Edwards, Chile, U. S. labor and trade associations.

John S. Pasmazoglou, Greece, international investment banking.

Jose P. de Freitas, Brazil, engineering teaching methods.

Suleyman Demirel, Turkey, electric power development.

Rotary-Type Fellowship Is The 'Hope Of World'

MARINETTE—(Special)—“The type of fellowship as exemplified in Rotary is the hope of the world,” Gordon A. Beaton, Ontario, Canada, past Rotary International director, told approximately 50 Rotarians at an inter-city forum at the Silver Dome here last night.

“Rotary is a tremendous force for good citizenship and sound education in a community,” he said. “Fellowship is the foundation of our organization. We have more than 400,000 members in 8,445 clubs throughout the world.”

Seventy five per cent of the Rotarians in the world are in the United States, Beaton pointed out.

The meeting was attended by Rotarians from Marinette, Menominee, Iron Mountain, Escanaba and Gladstone. Attending from Escanaba were Denis McGinn, local club president; Erling Arntsen, George C. Stuart, John L. Greene, James G. Ward, Jr., Dr. Vernon K. Johnson, Don Trotter, Bruce Brackett and George Marcouiller.

Gladstone representatives were William L. Marble, Rex Stowe, incoming Gladstone president, and Andrew Canuelle, outgoing president, and Thomas Beaton.

Tom Beaton is governor of Rotary International in District 208 which comprises Northern Wisconsin and the Upper Peninsula. Speakers and discussion leaders at the session yesterday afternoon and last night were Norman R. Johnson, president of the Marinette Rotary club; Willard B. Belack, past district governor, Neenah, Wis.; George Robbins, Elmer Tryon, Kenneth Corbin and Jesse Legault, all of Marinette.

Al Sveteblor, of Ironwood, district governor elect, was introduced.

A representative of each club reported on its activities in the four objectives of Rotary, vocational service, international service, community service and club service.

Escanaba's well known Camp Harstad and expansive crippled children program came in for much attention at the meeting. Other phases of the Escanaba club's program also were discussed.

“The test for every Rotarian is to ask himself the question: ‘Is the community a better place because I lived in it?’” Gordon Beaton emphasized in his main address at the dinner-meeting.

“Rotarians and all the adults in the world are a pattern for the children of today and they should conduct themselves accordingly,” he remarked.

The Four-Way Test, a Rotary test to improve general business ethics and to increase mutual respect and understanding was explained to the group here yesterday.

The Four-Way Test follows: “Is it the truth?” “Is it fair to all concerned?” “Will it build good will and better friendships?” “Will it be beneficial to all concerned?”

Rotarians were told that if they “constantly apply the Four-Way Test during the business day they will get into the habit of applying it in their home, social and community life.”

Board Accepts Resignation Of Miss McNamara

The Escanaba Board of Education last night accepted the resignation of Catherine McNamara, third grade teacher at the Franklin School. Miss McNamara plans to be married soon.

The board received a communication from Mrs. Ralph Shinar informing the board that the Escanaba Woman's Club is donating $150 in scholarships for the musical camp at Interlochen.

The board also received a check in the amount of $12,881.25, income from stocks and bonds held in the Anna C. Norton Fund.

The board will meet Jan. 25, instead of Jan. 26 as previously announced, at which time a planning committee will proceed with plans for the organization of a citizens advisory committee.

Trustee Harold Crebo gave a report to the board on the care and operation of the school's boilers.

No date has been set yet for the dedication of the John A. Lemmer elementary school.

The sting of defeat is well rewarded by consciousness of having fought for the right.

Polio Chapter Gets $3,500 In Emergency Aid

A check for $3,500 from March of Dimes headquarters in New York was received here today by the Delta County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Leslie W. Olson, chapter chairman, said the check would help pay the costs of care already provided for polio patients at home or in hospitals.

“This money is another example of the help available to local chapters from national headquarters,” Olson said, “and it relieves the financial pressure in our chapter for the time being.”

On Three Fronts

“We are doing everything we can to insure the success of the 1955 March of Dimes in Delta County, so that we will be ready to give financial aid to local polio patients during the new year,” he said. “Fifty per cent of the funds raised stay right here in our area.”

Chairman Olson said that the other 50 per cent of the 1955 March of Dimes money will go to national headquarters, for other polio-fighting purposes.

“These programs include: 1 — Polio prevention, part of which is the purchase of standby supplies of polio vaccine so that if the vaccine is declared effective this spring and is licensed, it can be made available almost immediately to 9,000,000 children throughout the country; 2 — Continued scientific research aimed at the ultimate prevention of this crippling disease; and 3 — Professional education for personnel urgently needed in hospitals and laboratories,” he said.

Polio's High Cost

Olson explained that the chapter is currently providing March of Dimes funds, in whole or in part, for the care of two patients stricken during the last year, and in addition to 53 patients from previous years.

The high cost of fighting polio is indicated in the indebtedness of the Delta County Chapter to St. Luke's Hospital, Marquette, where treatment is given several patients from this county. Some are “iron lung cases” requiring months of hospitalization.

“As of Dec. 31, the Delta County chapter owed St. Luke's Hos-

German Teacher Talks To Jefferson Pupils

Students of the fifth and sixth grades of the Jefferson School today heard a most interesting and informative talk on Germany and the German people by Miss Rosa Boeckl of Waldassen, Germany. Miss Boeckl, an elementary teacher in Germany, is a visitor in the United States, where she is observing elementary education in the public schools.

“Boys and girls in Germany attend school six times a week — the sixth day on Saturday,” she began. “They begin school at 8 a. m., their lunch time is from 12 until 1:30 p. m. and are dismissed from classes for the day at 3:30 p. m. Our school vacations during the summer time are six weeks, much shorter than in the United States, but the schools close for 14 days at Christmas and 14 days at Easter time.”

She mentioned that the equipment in German schools is very limited, especially in comparison to the abundant equipment in the schools in this country. Miss Boeckl said that she would like to take back the equipment in our schools, such as books, films, projectors, etc. There are only 10 books in her room library overseas.

52 Pupils In Class

Another problem of her classroom is limited seating space for pital $7,719.62,” Chairman Olson pointed out. “One case alone is costing over $500 per month for care and treatment at the hospital.”

Public Support

Many of the patients make satisfactory recoveries from polio, are able to learn new skills if they are handicapped to compensate for the loss of some of their physical ability, “and to support themselves and their families,” Olson said.

For those most seriously ill, the cases which cost the most over a period of month and years, there is sometimes the tragedy of “an investment lost a death.” Yet it is justified — and to the limits of the chapter's financial ability.

The emergency aid from the National Foundation to the local chapter will relieve the immediate financial pressure, but generous contributions will be required in the March of Dimes drive to meet its obligation, he added.

the children. The students, approximately 52 of them, are seated at long rows of benches giving them a very small working space. Desks and chairs similar to those in the Escanaba schools are being installed as the money permits.

Waldassen is a little town with a population of 8,000 people and is located near the Czechoslovakia border. The hilly country surrounding the town is ideal for the winter sports of sledding and skiing. Another popular winter sport in the town is skating, as it is in this country. Swimming, hiking and bicycling are favorite summertime activities.

During the warm season of the year, the teacher and students of the fifth and sixth grades will take a hike of about 20 miles, leaving at 7 in the morning and returning at night. They walk and learn facts about the countryside, visit old landmarks and have a picnic lunch. The younger children in the schools make hikes of five, six or seven miles.

Gay Customs

Many gay and ancient customs are practiced by the German people. Before the Lent season begins, the Germans hold a big carnival in which all the people dress in costume. There are dances, plays and a big parade; a festival somewhat like our Mardi Gras in New Orleans. In the classrooms, which are gaily decorated, games, dances and parties are held. A custom at Easter time is that of hiding eggs for the children to find on Easter morning in the trees, bushes and gardens.

The first of May is the big festival of the warm season. The boys and girls, who dance around the May Pole and sing, wear Bavarian costumes, which are very attractive and colorful. The girls' summer costumes consist of a white peasant blouse worn with a gaily printed light material jumper. Dainty aprons and black hats with green stitching and a white feather complete the ensembles. The Bavarian costumes for the boys consist of knee pants worn with blousy shirts. The pants are embroidered on the sides and are worn with large decorated suspenders. Their black hats have the beard of a mountain goat as a decoration.

“Germany is a gay country, and its people are very much interested in the United States,” Miss Boeckl ended.

It's worthwhile to take inventory on ourselves now and then—and the first of the year is the proper time.

Development Bureau Will Meet Feb. 15

The future of Upper Peninsula industry and methods of attracting new industry to this area will be studied at a meeting of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau in Marquette Tuesday, Feb. 15, it was announced today.

The executive committee of the Bureau will meet on that date, as will the advisory committee to the Bureau's industrial board and the industrial board itself.

Hopped Up Robins Falling In Florida

ANNA MARIA, Fla. (P)—Robins by the hundreds have been on a binge here for several days.

The birds teeter back and forth on telephone lines, fall off, flutter feebly to the ground and remain there.

They fly into automobiles, and streets are strewn with their bodies.

Police can't account for the strange behavior, but Harry Varley, editor of the weekly newspaper The Islander, thinks the birds got hopped up on some kind of fallen fermented berry.

National Banks Hold Meetings

National banks in Delta County yesterday held their annual meeting of stockholders and elected directors for the ensuing year. All of the directors of the First National Bank of Escanaba, Escanaba National Bank and First National Bank in Gladstone were re-elected. An additional director, John H. Bissell, was added to the board of the First National Bank of Escanaba.

The slates of directors follows: First National of Escanaba: James Frost, Louis Groos, Charles Gessner, John Greene, Herbert Norton and John H. Bissell. Bissell's grandfather, the late Murray K. Bissell, served as president of the First National Bank from 1922 to 1939.

Escanaba National Bank: Stack Smith, Juel Lee, Hubert H. Shepeck, Percy Rosemurgy, Herman O. Menck and W. J. Schmitt. First National Bank in Gladstone: Elio Hanson, Loyal W. Hanson, Stanley R. Venne, Frank A. Miller, E. H. Noblet. The directors met later and re-elected Elio Hanson as president, E. H. Noblet vice president and cashier, and William J. Noreus assistant cashier.

The directors of the two national banks in Escanaba will meet later to elect their officers.

The state banks of the county State Bank of Escanaba, The Gladstone State Savings Bank and Bark River State Bank, will hold their annual stockholders meetings next Tuesday, Jan. 18.

(CST) from Kellogg Field at Battle Creek.

The plane was to have proceeded to Lexington, Ky., to pick up Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Van Lennep, wealthy Detroit race horse owners. Mrs. Van Lennep, the former Frances Dodge, is an officer in the firm which owned the plane.

The plane then was scheduled to carry the Van Lenneps to Del Ray, Florida.

Both Werkhaven and Agnar are married and each has two children. They were employed as test pilots on bombers produced at Willow Run Airport outside Detroit during World War II.

The restored service will be in the form of a combination diesel engine unit and baggage car, but there will be no tap car north of Green Bay.

A baggageman will be restored thus insuring full baggage service on the combination engine-baggage unit. The minimum train north of Green Bay will be combination engine-baggage car, two coaches and parlor car. Additional units will be added as service warrants.

The service applies only to northbound streamliner No. 209 and southbound streamliner No. 214 north of Green Bay.

RAISING THE FLAG OF HOPE—Five-year-old Mary Kosloski, the 1955 March of Dimes Poster Girl, raises a flag atop Mt. Baldy, Ida., officially opening the 1955 March of Dimes campaign. Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, and students of Harley, Ida. High School help open the campaign. The banner will remain flying until the campaign ends on Jan. 31. The Idaho area was chosen because there were no polio cases there during 1954.

Congress In Mood To Boost Wages, Include Their Own

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress seemed to be in a mood today not only to give a prompt pay raise to 1½ million federal employees, but also to boost substantially its own salaries.

But a companion administration proposal to increase postage rates was met with marked reserve and some outright opposition.

President Eisenhower sent to the Capitol Tuesday special messages urging 5 per cent pay hikes totaling about 339 million dollars annually for one million civil service workers and 500,000 postal employees. He also called for increases in rates charged for first, second and third class mail to help offset the added postal pay costs.

The dinner jacket was originated by the French and had fancy quilted lapels. Intended as a smoking jacket, it soon became popular for small semiformal gatherings.

Lawyers To Give Free Legal Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—The American Bar Assn. announced today the establishment of a special committee to give free legal assistance to government workers involved in security cases.

Some federal workers, although finally cleared, have complained of heavy legal expenses incurred in defending themselves. The government reimburses them for any pay lost during periods of suspension, but it does not pay their attorneys' fees.

ABA President Loyd Wright said the special committee was set up in Washington because it has the heaviest concentration of federal workers. But he said similar aid would be provided through legal aid clinics and lawyer referral services in the principal cities of the nation. He said the "problem is broad enough to include questions of industrial security matters" involving employees of private firms holding government contracts.

Some Want More
This body proposed a $12,500 increase for senators and representatives, to $27,500 a year. It urged similar raises for federal judges.

Some lawmakers said privately that enactment of a $10,000 raise was more likely. The President's message on federal employee pay raises won quick praise from senior members of the House Post Office and Civil Service Committee. But a move was afoot in the Senate to vote a much larger increase.

Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D-SC), prospective chairman of the Senate Post Office and Civil Service Committee, has joined 20 other senators in introducing a bill calling for average 10 per cent hikes.

Johnston said the Senate would not take action on proposed postal rate increases pending developments in the House. There, Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.) has come out strongly against any increases in letter mail charges.

PUSHES FEPC BILL

LANSING (AP)—A key Republican senator today saw hopes for passage this year of legislation banning job discrimination against minority groups — a Republican political bugaboo for six years.

Sen. Harry F. Hittle (R-East Lansing) sponsored a "compromise" fair employment practices (FEPC) bill and declared the prospect of its passage was good. Republicans have been condemned for six years by the Democrats at election time for refusing to pass FEPC legislation.

Hittle's bill would forbid employers to discriminate in hiring be-

Snakes Made Pets To Foil Poison Kind

PROTECTED . . . This little Yugoslavian boy likes his pet blavors. The fat, friendly snakes keep the poisonous kind away from his home.

AP Newsfeatures
BELGRADE—There are lots of poisonous snakes in the mountains of Yugoslavia—rattlesnakes and other kinds of vipers. In many sections of the country the people keep blavors (a kind of harmless snake) as pets to control the poisonous varieties.
The fat, friendly blavors will make a meal off a big rattler if given the chance, but will drink out of the milk jug when natural food is not available.
The Yugoslavians also use their poisonous snakes as an export item. A factory in Croatia processes venom for use as a snake bite antidote. Hundreds of vials are sold to France and Germany. Many of the live snakes also are exported, often to zoos and laboratories.
Hunting the deadly snakes is a sport for many Yugoslavians but it also is a business. Secrets of choice locations for finding snakes are handed down from father to son. And local snake-bite remedies are guarded as trade secrets.

The hunters get about 85 cents for each poisonous snake they catch. Both boys and girls train as hunters under close supervision of their parents.
Brer Rabbit Good For Pulling Teeth
MERIDAN, Miss. (AP) — When it comes to pulling "baby teeth" Mrs. Margie Aust, a teacher for 25 years, believes there's no better anaesthetic than the story of "Brer Rabbit."
And Mrs. Aust should know. She recently pulled her 1600th tooth and, as usual, had the tooth dangling on a string while the tiny patient sat enthralled with the tale of the resourceful rabbit. In fact, says Mrs. Aust, the little student was disappointed that the tooth was out before the story ended.

Hermansville

Conservation Course
HERMANSVILLE — A course in "Survey of Conservation of Wildlife" has been scheduled tentatively for Hermansville High School beginning Feb. 8. Dr. Max Allen, director of instruction at Northern Michigan College of Education, has announced. George Butler of the college faculty will be the instructor. Those interested in the course are requested to contact Supt. Arne Johnson at Hermansville as soon as possible.
Homecoming Friday
Homecoming will be celebrated at Hermansville High School Friday, Jan. 14. The Bark River-Redskin basketball game will be followed by a homecoming dance with music by Arnold Smeltz's orchestra.

Tickets Announced
HERMANSVILLE— There will be no primary election in Meyer Township this year and the following candidates will appear on the ballot for the spring election to be held on April 4.
Citizens Ticket, Roy E. Johnson, supervisor; clerk, Harold E. Allen; treasurer, William Anderson; trustees (2) Fred Gamache and Leonard Schuit; board of review, Arthur Larsen; justice of the peace (4 year term) Pat Granier; justice of the peace, (to fill vacancy) Clifford Gustafson; constables, Victor Dani and Merrill Vincent.
Independent Ticket, supervisor, Arthur E. Schultz; clerk, Herman P. Luft; treasurer, Joseph St. Juliana; trustees (2) Carl Swanson and Julius Haelterman; board of review, Ike Polazzo; justice of the peace, Willard Johnson; constable, Steve Tomasic.

New Floor Care Ends Waxing

One of the most difficult jobs of housekeeping is to keep linoleum and asphalt tile floors waxed and gleaming. Now, thanks to Glaxo, it is no longer necessary to wax and scrub. All you do is apply Glaxo with a brush about twice a year. It maintains a high lustre, non slip coating that seals out dirt. Glaxo dries in one hour and is water clear. It's cheaper than wax in the long run, besides saving a terrific amount of work, plus truly a beautiful floor. Glaxo is available at the Fair Store, Escanaba. (Adv.)

TOO PESSIMISTIC
It is an excellent idea, of course, to limit your loss (if possible) when you reach a hopeless contract, but it is another excellent idea to be sure that the hand is hopeless. South in this deal was too pessimistic.

The bidding:
East South West North
1♦ 3♥ 3♠ 4♥
Pass Pass 5♦ 6♠
Dble. 6♥ Pass Pass
Dble. Pass Pass Pass

Perhaps the outcome was at least partially due to the fact that South was disgusted when North bid six clubs and prevented South from doubling six diamonds. North, however, could not be blamed too severely for feeling that his side might have a playable slam.

West, impressed by his partner's double of six clubs, opened the singleton eight, and when East covered dummy's nine, South ruffed.

Declarer reasoned that, considering the double of clubs and West's opening lead, it would be impossible to set up and reach dummy's long suit. If South ruffed a diamond on the board, then led a high club through East, the later (an expert) surely would refuse to cover—he would keep his high clubs and let West ruff the trick if South didn't ruff. So declarer decided that he had better trump two diamonds in dummy and settle for down two—which he did.

At the risk of an additional 300 points, South could have tried for the enormous reward of making the contract. If he had led the heart king he would have seen West's nine—and that would have been a highly revealing card. Overtaking the king with dummy's ace, South could now lead a high club through East, who would be forced to cover then or later. South would ruff, then go back to dummy's trump seven

Announcing a new kind of Automobile Insurance in Michigan at surprisingly low cost:

MOTORIST'S PERSONAL PROTECTION PLAN

Applies in any auto accident in the U.S. or Canada, no matter who is at fault or whether the other driver is insured

THE TRAVELERS, the first company to write Automobile Liability insurance, is proud to be the first to offer this new protection as an addition to its Automobile Liability policy.

There are two important features in The Motorist's Personal Protection Plan:

TOTAL DISABILITY COVERAGE
DEATH INDEMNITY COVERAGE

Here's why the Plan is needed:

1 Personal insurance such as this Plan affords is the only way the insured can protect himself when no one else is at fault.

Each year, thousands of persons are killed or injured in automobile accidents in which the car runs off the roadway, overturns in the roadway, collides with a fixed object or is otherwise involved in accidents which do not involve collision with another car. The driver in almost all of these accidents is the only one at fault.

2 Personal insurance such as this Plan affords is also a means by which the insured can protect himself when someone else is at fault and the other person is not adequately insured, or is uninsured.

Details of benefits and exceptions and information on how you may qualify for the Plan are contained in our pamphlet, "For You, a New and Different Automobile Insurance." For your copy, call the Travelers representative in your community. (There are Travelers representatives throughout the state.) Or send a card or letter to the Travelers office listed below.

Freed American Tells Of Revolt Brewing In Russian Labor Camps

BERLIN (AP) — An American released from a Soviet slave labor camp at Vorkuta said a rebellion flared there in July, 1953, in which guards mowed down 110 prisoners on the spot and wounded 500 more.

John H. Noble, 31, of Detroit, who was released by the Russians on Saturday after 9½ years imprisonment, told a news conference the vast network of prisons in Russia "needs only a spark" to explode into open revolt.

Scores Executed
Noble said the revolt at Vorkuta, in Arctic Russia northeast of Moscow, was inspired and organized by followers of the executed Soviet Secret Police Chief L. P. Beria, who was then under arrest. From 30 to 60 persons were executed later, he said, as a result of the revolt.

Noble said the slave labor camp at Vorkuta contained more than a half million inmates, of whom 95 per cent were dedicated to opposing the Soviet regime.

Noble said the inmates got the impression that Beria's men were trying to foment revolution throughout the Soviet Union to overthrow Premier Georgi Malenkov's regime.

Noble described how he and his father, a camera manufacturer, were trapped in Dresden by World War II and were compelled to remain there under local internment. Both were arrested in 1945 by the Russians. The father was released seven years later. Young Noble was taken from a German prison to Vorkuta in 1950.

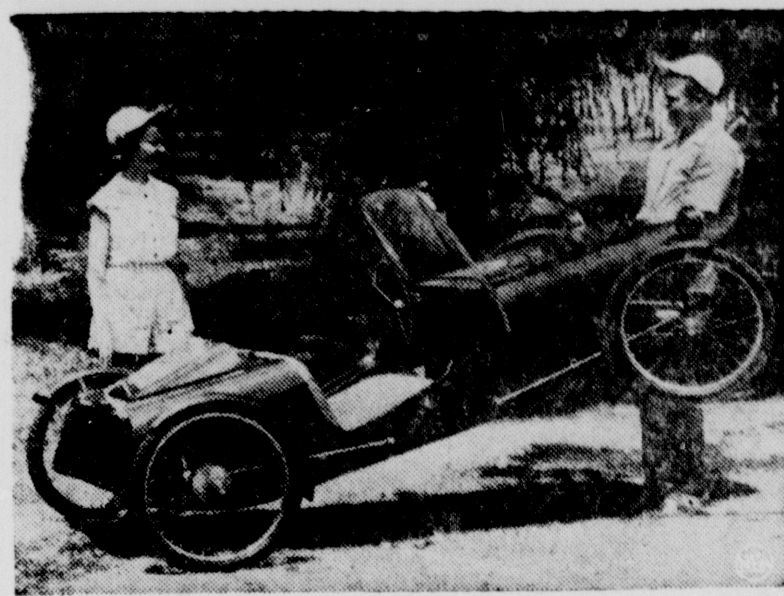

Life Hopeless

He said he was sentenced to 15 years, although he was never tried, and added:

"All they ever told me was that we were guilty of having received American officers and soldiers in our home in 1945 and that we had American food in our possession."

Even when he was released, the Russians declined any explanation. Life in the Siberian labor camp, he said, is "horrible and hopeless."

"None of us ever expected to return," he said. "The worst thing was to fall into Soviet hands, because once there you hardly have a chance."

Noble was put to coal mining. He said the temperature sometimes reached as low as 40 degrees below zero, and on one occasion it fell to 72 below.

In the camps where he worked, he estimated there were several thousand Germans and "quite a lot of Poles." He saw only two other Americans, one Pvt. William C. Marchuk, 30, of Norristown, Pa., who was released with him, and another soldier, Pvt. William Verdine, 28, of Starks, La.

An American request for Verdine's release has been presented to the Russians.

Noble said Marchuk told him he fell into Russian hands because he "got drunk" in the Soviet sector of Berlin in 1949. Marchuk is in the Army hospital now under guard and the Army is preparing a trial. Officers said today they have not yet decided on the charges, whether they will be absent without official leave or desertion.

Unrest Continues

Noble added that he had heard from other prisoners of Americans being held in other camps.

"I heard one time there were some pilots who came down in the Baltic Sea and that there were others from North Korea," he said.

He gave these details: Unrest continues among the prison population, and the Russians have tried to minimize the situation by improving conditions a little. Nevertheless, sabotage is frequent, especially in the mines.

Prisoners get two meals a day, of cabbage and grain and sometimes fish. They work an eight hour day and have three days off in one month. They receive Communist newspapers from Moscow and East Berlin.

It was possible to live through the Vorkuta experience, but the prison camps the Russians established in Germany right after the war were "pure death mills."

held in a work camp in Dresden in 1945 died of starvation, Noble

said. "I lived through all this for two reasons," he declared. "One was my confidence in God, and two, my absolute will to return to the United States in order to tell the world what I experienced. I kept myself interested in every little thing that happened so that my mind was occupied. Most of the Russians in the work camps accept their fate. They were very helpful to me, perhaps because I was an American, and they asked lots of questions about the United States, but they didn't believe 10 per cent of what I told them."

"Especially amongst younger people, there is still a very strong desire for religious services. They talk of another war all the time because they think this is the only way they will be free."

Self-possessed and tough-spirited, Noble said he never despaired even when his weight fell one time to 100 pounds. He is now back to his normal 135.

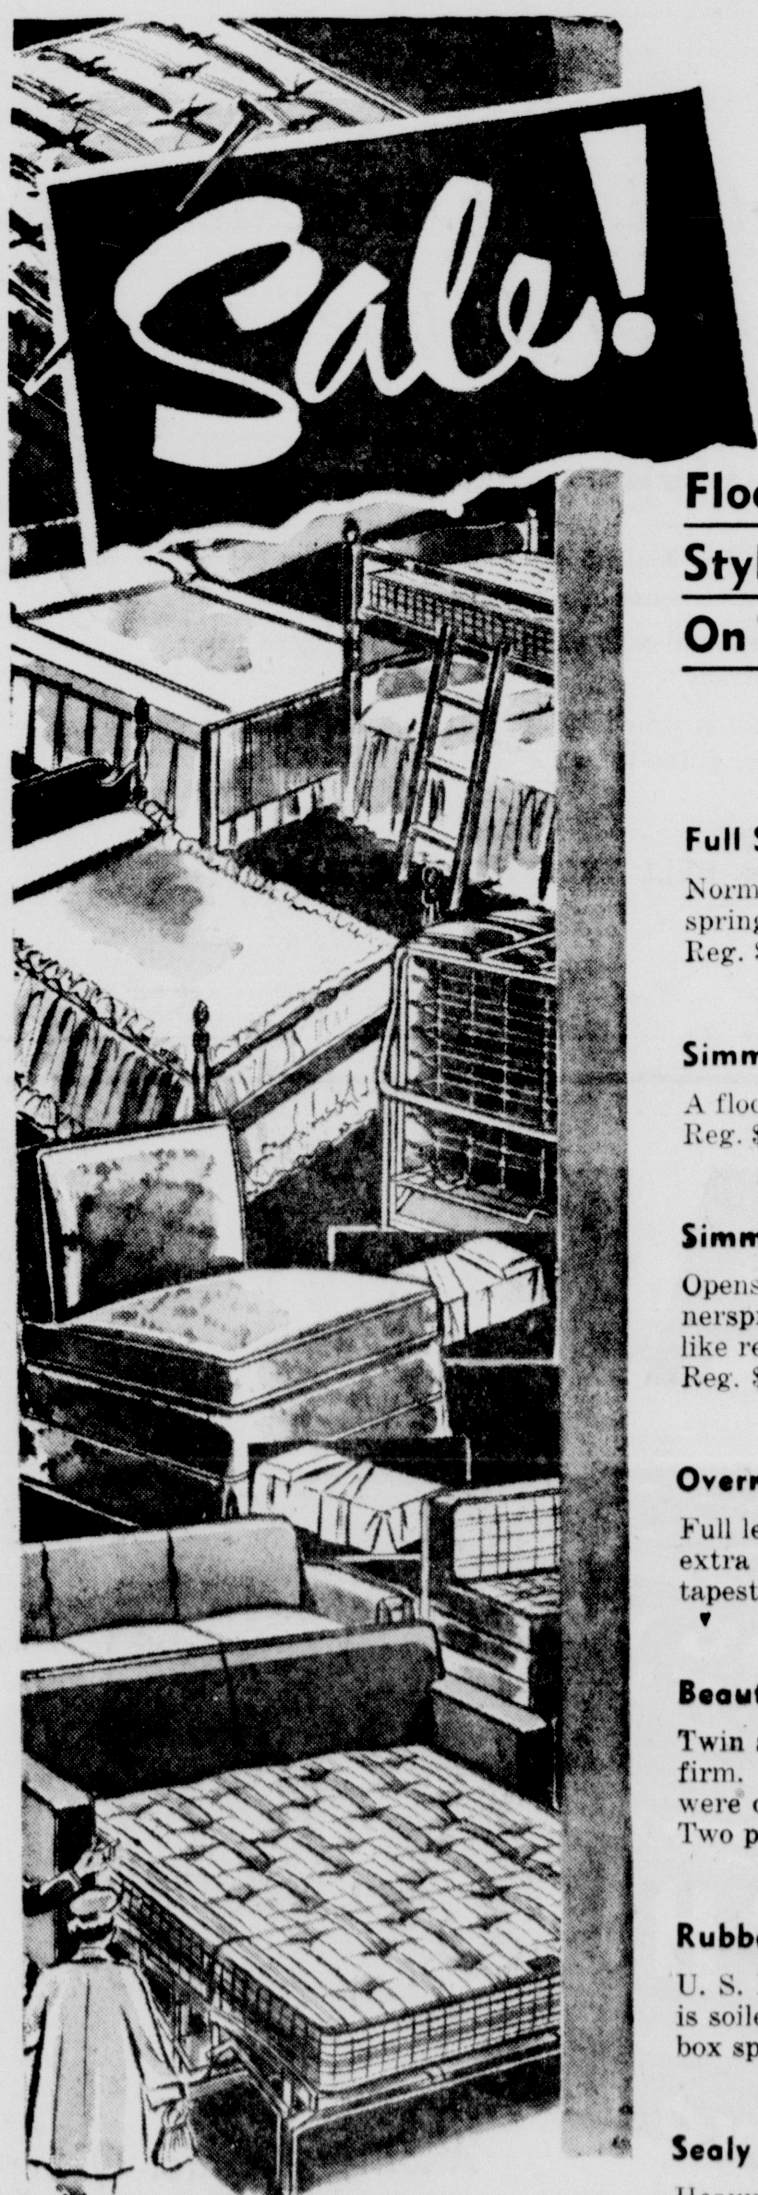

He broke into a wide grin when he described his actual release in Moscow.

"A Russian general told me I would go by train to Berlin the next morning and be turned over to American authorities."

Then he took me on a sight-seeing tour of art galleries and the subway."

Kazaks Escape Reds In 3000-Mile Trek

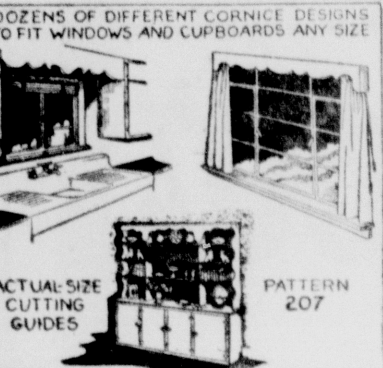

KAZAK CHIEF QUALI-BEG: Read about communism in his heart.

By KENNETH O. GILMORE
WASHINGTON—(NEA)—It's a bloody business to try to escape from Communist China.

A courageous band of 350 refugees from Red slavery will testify to this. They are all who are left of 20,000 Kazak tribesmen who in 1950 tried to make a 3000 mile break for freedom.

The tale of their gruesome trek is now told by a young couple who have returned to Washington from the Vale of Kashmir, near the border of India, where the Kazaks finally found refuge. Jerry Clark and his wife, Ronnie, spent a year living, eating and conversing with these Central Asian nomads.

Workshop Patterns

This scallop pattern has a wide range of uses as there are twelve different sizes and shaped to be traced onto the wood. These sizes range from one inch to nineteen inches in width with the correct proportions in depth. Pattern 207 also illustrates the right way to make a cornice box for single windows of various widths and a group of windows framed together. In all there are nine styles of window framing illustrated on the pattern, as well as other ways to use these scallops in interior decoration. If you want to make draw curtains order pattern 325 which also shows the best methods to use in curtaining more than a dozen different types of windows. Patterns are 25c each.

terial on the history, culture and language of the Kazaks. They learned what a proud people will go through to keep the freedom they have had for 20 centuries.

To them, democracy means the right to wander through the highlands of western China and southern Russia tending their sheep and practicing the Moslem religion. But in 1949 the Chinese Communist authorities began to crack down on the Kazaks, whose ancestry dates back to Genghis Khan.

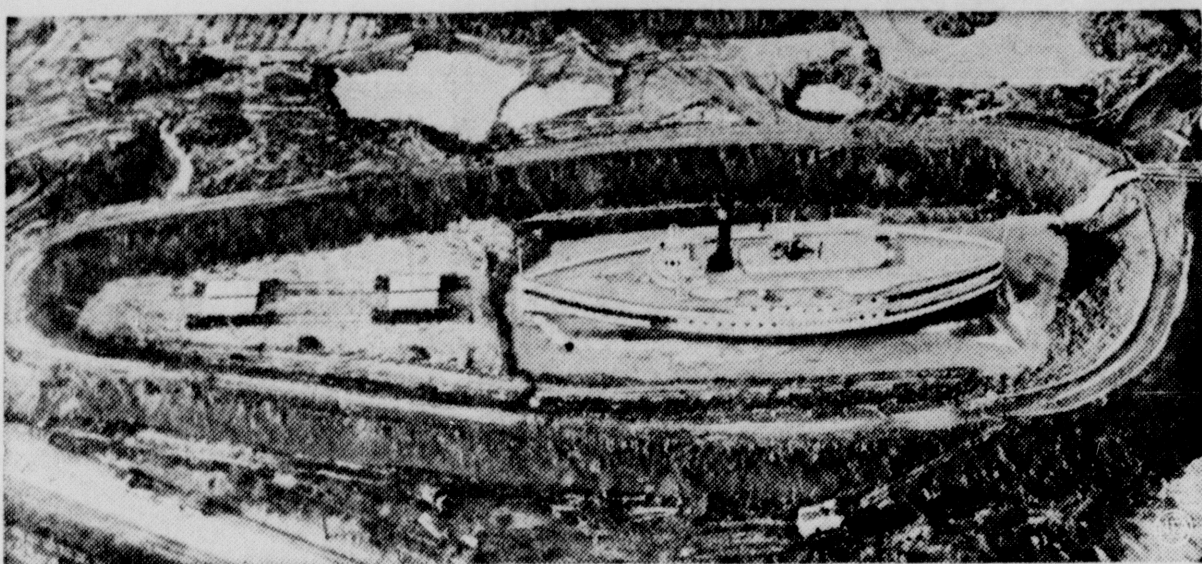

They were forced to comply with Marxist doctrines completely alien to their way of life. Restrictions prevented them from roaming with their herds, which the Communists tried to collectivize.

Finally, when they could take no more, 20,000 of Sinkiang's half million Kazaks decided to migrate to India. Ahead of them lay some of the world's roughest terrain, including the Himalaya Mountains.

This proved to be the least of Communist regime, which was accustomed to rugged travel. But they were not equipped to handle the merciless vengeance of the Communist regime, which was determined to stop this mass flight, if it meant killing every last Kazak tribesman.

In April, 1950, as the Kazaks were about to leave their winter encampment, Chinese troops and tanks delivered a brutal attack. Those who managed to survive hid in the hills. Then, in small and separate bands, they began to make their way towards India.

Often, as they went through narrow mountain passes, Communist cavalry forces would ambush them. When a caravan was raided, the women and children fled with the sheep and tents while the men fought a delaying

Wife Murdered As Son Watches

DETROIT (AP)—As an 8-year-old son watched horror-struck, police said Nelson Cheney, 28, shot his estranged wife, Florence, to death Tuesday in the kitchen of her east side home.

Mrs. Cheney, 28, was hit in the head by one of five pistol shots.

Detective Raymond Brewington said Cheney admitted shooting his wife and told him he thought Mrs. Cheney had been too friendly with a man with whom she worked.

The Cheney's 8-year-old son James told police:

"They were yelling at each other. They made so much noise I got up and peeked in the kitchen. Daddy had a gun and he shot and

Fish Producers Discuss Lamprey

TRAVERSE CITY (P)—The Michigan Fish Producers Assn. heard a government official express hope Monday night that control methods now used will halt sea lamprey increase in Lake Superior.

Bernard Smith, of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, reported on the lamprey war to more than 100 Great Lakes commercial fishermen. The group was assembled for a three-day meeting.

Smith warned that a continued increase in lamprey population will mean the end of lake trout in Lake Superior.

"However, we feel we have good control over the areas we now know about," he said.

Smith said the service hopes to extend its lamprey war methods into the western end of Lake Superior next year. He added it also hopes to have 17 more electric shock wires operating in Lake Michigan next spring. The apparatus is used to fight the predator.

Dr. Paul Eschmeyer, also a member of the service, reported that work continues on the goal of maintaining trout stocks in Lake Superior and restocking Lake Michigan where lake trout have virtually disappeared.

Jailed By Request

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (P)—Dennis M. Dixon, who entered Texas State Penitentiary in 1929 on two charges of murder and four of burglary and was paroled in 1944, is back again—at his own request.

He asked that his parole be revoked because "I thought I'd better get back in before I got into some serious trouble." He said he had been unemployed for 18 months, his wife had divorced him and he had been drinking too much.

Elephant Goes On Vacation

DANBURY, N. H. (P)—A circus, traveling through New Hampshire, took a short cut over a back road in this town.

As the elephant truck went up a long hill, the tailgate slid open and one of the pachyderms got out.

Motorists on the road later received quite a shock to see the huge animal calmly standing by the roadside, apparently enjoying the woody countryside.

About 40 miles further on, the circus crew stopped for a rest and discovered the loss. A search party was sent back and the elephant was discovered surrounded by admirers, some with cameras, others just wondering at "New Hampshire wildlife."

King Edward II of England defined the inch as equal to three grains of barley laid end to end.

Italian Fascist War Chief Dies

ROME (P)—Marshal Rodolfo Graziani, Italy's grizzled "Desert Lion" of World War II, died Tuesday at a Rome clinic where he was to have undergone an operation.

He was 72 and an unrepentant Fascist who had been stripped of his many honors and lived in recent years in retirement.

For a time five years ago, Graziani appeared to emerge as the active leader of the neo-Fascist Italian Social Movement (MSI). But younger leaders crowded him out.

Graziani after World War I reconquered North Africa's Libyan tribesmen for Mussolini's empire and led Il Duce's forces in East Africa to victory in the Italian war against Ethiopia. But World War II brought him defeat, disgrace and finally a traitor's trial as a Nazi collaborator.

Captured by Italian partisans in 1945, he spent the next five years in prison or in a military hospital.

He was sentenced to a 19-year term in 1950 by a military tribunal. He served only a few more months in prison, however, before a government amnesty freed him.

John Slaton, Former Governor Of Georgia, Dies At Age Of 88

ATLANTA (P)—Former Gov. John Marshall Slaton, whose public career began more than half a century ago, died of a cerebral blood-clot early Tuesday. He was 88.

He was elected to the Georgia House of Representatives in 1896, later served as president of the Senate, and was acting governor for a few months in 1911. He served as governor in 1913-15.

In 1915 after he commuted the death sentence of Leo Frank, convicted of murder in the slaying of 13-year-old Mary Phagan, mobs stormed both the State Capitol and the governor's residence. The siege at the governor's residence lasted for two days and was ended only when National Guardsmen drove off members of the mob at bayonet point and with gun butts.

Slaton's friends shielded him when a mob descended on the Capitol. Frank himself was lynched shortly after Slaton commuted his sentence to life imprisonment.

Pipe This

The folk who make pipes are trying mightily to persuade the gals that puffing a briar in public is the "very latest." But they're just peddling a pipe dream, as these pictures prove.

THAT'S new? Well, not exactly. A generation ago, many an old granny smoked her clay pipe, not as a fad—as a habit.

Lovely Teeth Visit Dentist

By ALICIA MART
NEA Beauty Editor

How long the dreary old wife's tales hang on. One specter is vanquished, only to reappear in some reputable location, clothed in all the disguise of learned language.

The ones that last the longest are hung on our fears. It's no surprise, since the dentist looms high on our list of unpleasant duties, that myths about teeth persist. One otherwise-smart twentieth-century housewife shrugged her shoulders at the prospect of an approaching tooth extraction.

"Oh, well," she said, "a tooth for every child."

This cruel superstition, rather than making her take better care of her great beauty asset, makes her resigned to dental misery in the cause of family-building.

Your dentist is the man for teeth. He knows you and he knows your teeth—the latter better than the former, perhaps. He should get a good look at your teeth and X-ray them every six months.

If he doesn't notify you, call and make an appointment during the week you've marked on your calendar. Make them for husband and children, too.

And as for the pregnancy, your diet should be good and strong in the things that build teeth and bones, for your baby's starting from scratch. And you should go and see your dentist to be sure the tiniest flaw is taken care of.

To keep insects out of a seldom-trod rug, fill a spray gun with a five per cent DDT solution. Spray the floor under the rug, the underside of the rug, then the top. It'll last a year.

Franklin PTA Monthly Meeting Held Last Night

The Franklin Parent Teacher Association held its regular meeting at the school auditorium last evening.

At the business session the following reports were presented: Council meeting, Mrs. George Coan; membership, Mrs. Jesse W. Pomazal; carnival, Mrs. Arne J. Maki.

Coming Meetings

Attorney William Anderson, program chairman, announced that the next meeting will be held Feb. 1 and the program of the evening will be "Testing and Vocational Guidance." Plans for the Founders' Day program were discussed and all parents urged to attend that meeting which will be held Tuesday evening, Feb. 8, at the Junior High School.

Mrs. Maki was appointed chairman of a projects committee which will suggest plans for expenditure of PTA funds on hand.

The room count award was won by Miss Jennie Maurina's second grade.

Mrs. Harry Wilhelm was hospitality chairman and musical name tags were used in keeping with the theme of the program.

Following the business session Robert S. Meyer conducted the program and introduced the guests of the evening.

Music, Program Topic

Miss Betty Leisner outlined vocal music through the junior and senior high school. Mrs. Clara Somers introduced 20 students who demonstrated string music with ensembles from the grade schools, 7th grade, 8th grade and senior high school. Mr. Meyer presented two senior high school band students and discussed the band teaching program from the 5th grade through senior high school.

Hostesses were Mrs. George Coan and Mrs. John Rich, 1st and 2nd grade room mothers. Assistant hostesses were the Mesdames Donald Briggs, John Christo, Vincent Eade, Gordon Evenson, Nels Larson, Kenneth Lawson and Esther Robitaille.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Bub and Henry Warrington returned to Milwaukee today following a visit at the William Warrington home. Mrs. Bub, the former Lucille Warrington of Escanaba, is a niece of Mr. Warrington and Henry Warrington is his brother.

Miss Margaret O'Connell of Chicago is visiting here with relatives and friends.

MAKE A SPICY POMANDER

Choose a small orange with thin skin and poke whole cloves into it (use a darning needle or meat skewer to start the holes). Cover the entire orange, placing the cloves very close together. In a few days the orange will dry out, shrinking until no part of the skin shows. The cloves will prevent decay and the pomander will give off its spicy orange scent year after year.

Faille — don't iron it on the right side or you'll be out one dress. Do it carefully on the wrong side, preferably with a nonshed towel underneath.

Be A Lovely Wife For Breakfast, Too

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

Some young wives, instead of having tissues and the telephone on a bedside table, keep a whole supply of cosmetics there. They claim that they are able to "get their face on" in the morning before they can open their eyes to see how awful they look.

No one is able to testify how

With her hair and bobby pins tucked inside this neat elasticized night cap, a young wife can be a pleasant sight for husband's eyes, even if she must hurry to the breakfast table.

Your Baby

Using your time well while

Baby is napping is important. Many women seem to feel that they should use this time to get other housework or work for Baby done. Actually, this is the ideal time for you to snatch the rest you really need each day. Even a 15-minute nap is a help; try stretching out relaxing your muscles, closing your eyes and forgetting household worries completely. You'll get much more accomplished during the day if you have a regular rest period.

Walking Is An Aid To Beauty

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

One marvelous benefit of having graduated the kids out of the house and into their own homes is that at last there's a little time. Not too much, what with meetings and household duties, but there is something left over for you that there wasn't formerly.

Few women have to sit and wonder what to do with the quarter of a mile is a good time, for it goes easily. But one thing most mature women should budget right into their schedules is a daily walk.

This kind of exercise won't be the shock to the system that it would be for you suddenly to take up hockey. But it will improve your circulation, keep you insides happy, build up your appetite and get you outdoors.

But don't just vault out of the house one day. Keep in mind a few sensible dos and don'ts. Don't wear your good clothes, high heels, heavy coat and big hat. Wear comfortable shoes with broad heels, travel light. Walk briskly at a smart pace. Hold up your head, breathe deeply. Don't stop to window-shop or chat, keep going right along at a good pace. If you reach a hill, let your body lead your feet.

Don't try to go too far at first, for you must get back, too. A quarter of a mile is a good starter. You might increase this to a mile a day by slow degrees. Don't be a stoic. If you get too tired, hop a bus or call your husband to come get you.

But you will find the health benefits you derive from your walks will show in your appearance. Plus the fact it's good for you to get out and see a bit of the world you've been so busy in for the last 10 or 20 years.

Minds that have little to do find plenty to say.

Debaters Will Seek U. P. Title

Gladstone High School will be among the 16 schools competing for Upper Peninsula Debate honors in the final tournament at Marquette Friday afternoon and Saturday morning.

Forming the local affirmative team will be Franklin Lash and Frances Anderson while on the negative team are Karen Kliner and Peter Weingartner. Kay Bolger is the alternate.

The group will be accompanied to Marquette by Leonard Niewendorf, debate coach.

Participating in the meet will be the following schools: Escanaba, Holy Name, Menominee, Munising, Kingsford, Iron Mountain, Iron River, Ironwood, Ishpeming, Marquette Gravaet, J. D. Pierce, Sault Ste. Marie, Negaunee, Manistique, Felch and Gladstone.

The question suggests duty free trade between this nation and nations friendly to us.

Preliminaries will be held Friday afternoon and evening with the semi-finals and finals on Saturday morning. The banquet will be held at noon on Saturday with all participants as guests.

Each team will debate four times on Friday and the four teams with the best records will qualify for the semi-final rounds Saturday morning. The two survivors in the semi-final rounds will contest for the Upper Peninsula Championship.

GLADSTONE

Will Ask Dealers To Sell Only Approved Comics

All dealers who handle comic books are going to be invited to attend a city commission meeting at which time commissioners will learn if they will voluntarily co-operate in a plan to rid the newsstands of objectionable comic books.

A model ordinance pertaining to possession and sale of comics and defining what points are considered objectionable has been received by the city but it was believed that the dealers should be given the opportunity to remedy the situation themselves before acting.

Request for remedying of the comic book situation was made by the 8th Grade Sodality of All Saints Catholic School. At a previous meeting representatives of the Lutheran Brotherhood appeared to also ask action.

In connection with the continued public hearing on rezoning of a portion of the Assessor's Plant on the shore side of Lake Shore Drive the matter was again continued to allow for a meeting of the commission with the zoning Board. It was brought out that there was a question of the legality of spot rezoning and this would have to be settled before action was considered. Joe Horan, Wells, who planned to build a motel on the property if rezoned, told the commission that the matter had been under consideration since last August and if not given favorable consideration within the next month he would withdraw his request and would leave the property as it now stands.

On the request for payroll deduction of Union dues by Charles Wilderspin of the City Employees Union the commission declared they wanted employees to vote on the matter to learn employee sentiment.

Delinquent utility accounts were discussed and it was decided that inasmuch as under the ordinance covering the new light plant any accounts 60 days in arrears must be cut off that all electric consumers should be notified of this provision. A notice will be prepared and included with the next billing.

Conditions Listed For Sewage Plant Operation

Bernard DeHooghe will return to his position as operator of the sewage treatment plant next week-end and conditions under which the plant will be operated were outlined by City Manager H. J. Henrikson at a regular meeting of the city commission Monday night.

Inspection of two of the pumping stations will be handled by a member of another department, relieving the operator of making two long trips daily. The first hour of the morning, 8 to 9, will be spent in inspecting the station near the police post and the one adjacent to the treatment plant.

An 8-hour day will be worked by the operator and he will be through each day at 5.

An assistant will be trained so as to be able to handle the plant in emergencies. Full cooperation in teaching plant operation to the man named as assistant and with the State Health Department is also a condition.

A probationary period of six-months was set by the City Manager.

To Reduce Surety
The request of Champion, Inc., Iron Mountain, contractors building the structure which will house the electric generation plant to have their surety reduced from 15 to 5 per cent was turned down at the recommendation of Pfeiffer and Schultz, Minneapolis, electrical engineers who designed the plant.

The engineers recommended that no reduction be made until the first of the month at which time the surety would be reduced to 7 1/2 per cent and sometime later to 5 per cent. A representative of the engineering firm pointed out that the contractors should satisfy the city that all major debts have been cared for before any reduction in surety is given. He also pointed out that the surety is high in proportion to the amount of work remaining to be done and that after Feb. his firm would approve the reduction. He said the firm would prepare a contract amendment to provide for this.

Dedicate Organ Here On Sunday

The program for the concert arranged to dedicate the recently installed electronic organ at the Mission Covenant Church Sunday afternoon at 4 is announced by Rev. Albert K. Borns, pastor.

Mrs. Linnea Hanson Bagley, organist at First Lutheran Church, Iron River, will be the guest organist. She will be assisted by Dr. N. Wickstrom, violinist, also of Iron River.

The Rev. Albert K. Borns, pastor, will lead the congregation in the act of dedication, and the Rev. Sigfrid Carlson, superintendent of the Great Lakes Conference, will offer the dedicatory prayer.

Mrs. Bagley will play the following selections:

An Easter Flower, B. O. Worrell
Serenade, Franz Schubert
Berceuse, C. Harris

Children of the Heavenly Father, Swedish Folk Song (Tryggare kan ingen vara)
Hallelujah, G. F. Handel

Dr. Wickstrom, accompanied by Mrs. Bagley, will offer:

Largo (From Xerxes), G. F. Handel

Cavatina, Joachim Raff
Angel's Serenade, G. Braga

Dr. Wickstrom and Mrs. Bagley recently appeared as guest instrumentalists in a concert given by the Arpi Swedish Male Chorus at Ionic Hall in Detroit.

Mrs. John Luecke Tells Rotarians Of Trip To Caribbean

A delightful word picture of a Caribbean Island tour was presented before the Gladstone Rotary Club Monday noon by Mrs. John Luecke of Escanaba.

Not a trip spent in plush hotels but one designed to allow her and her son to visit with natives, see how they lived, Mrs. Luecke returned with a wealth of knowledge and experience.

One of the most striking things she found in attending both Roman Catholic and Episcopal services on Christmas Day was that in the former the Madonna was colored as was the Christ in the Episcopal church.

She suggested that anyone who contemplates a trip of this nature should take it while comparatively young as side trips into the hinterland can be strenuous.

A large number of photos taken on the trip were available for viewing by Rotarians and persons hearing the talk were in general accord that it was one of the finest programs in some time.

Financial Condition Of School District Pictured At Commission Meeting

Dr. George Kelly, president of the Gladstone Board of Education, Supt. Wallace C. Cameron and LeRoy Hamilton, school treasurer, appeared before the Gladstone City Commission Monday evening in an appeal for financial assistance during the current school year.

Dr. Kelly said that a comparison of budgets for the past five years reveals that there has been an increase of approximately $40,000 mainly in faculty salaries and custodial help salaries, maintenance having remained fairly constant. In the face of this, enrollment loss and also a cut in school aid has resulted in a revenue loss which will be about $17,000 during the year.

This he said would bring the working capital of $33,000 on hand last July down to about $16,000 at the end of the school year. He also pointed out that the school treasury was so low at present that it may be necessary to borrow to meet the second payroll this month.

The city was not asked to place local property valuation as equalized by the state nor was the question of placing a millage increase proposal before the city, considered at present. However, the commission was given the financial picture as it is now and it was indicated the board would be pleased if the city could find some way of assisting in solving the dilemma.

Payment of school taxes at state equalized valuations would give the schools a $4,000 'shot in the arm.' About the same amount could be realized by using the extra mill (the city is using a 14 mill rate this year) for school purposes. On a total valuation of nearly four million this would result in about the same amount for the school district as if the equalized valuation as demanded by the state was used.

No action was taken on the matter and it was indicated that further consideration would be given at a future meeting.

School Finance
Report Is Made

A deficit of $29,097.03 in the general fund of the Manistique Public School system will be substantially reduced by state aid, sales tax receipts and property taxes in the next few months, Supt. Arthur F. Hall reported Tuesday night at a regular meeting of the Manistique Board of Education.

Reports of receipts and expenditures in the past six months were submitted during the regular session, and at that time it was also reported that the anticipated deficit for the school year would be between $7,000 and $8,000. Earlier an $11,000 deficit was reported.

The board Tuesday accepted the audit of school financial records, made by Ernst & Ernst company, Marquette, at a cost of $350; and authorized $100 per year salary increase for William L. Green, who recently received his master's degree.

During the session, Supt. Hall reported that the Michigan Education association is planning to request the state legislature to require that children be five before Sept. 1 in order to begin school. Manistique already follows this policy, he noted.

Authorization for the school superintendent to obtain a new trailer for school use was granted by the board, and bills totaling $2,733.48 were allowed.

In other business, the school superintendent reported that a meeting of school officials of Schoolcraft, Alger, Dickinson, Menominee, Delta and Marquette counties will be held in Escanaba Jan. 26 to plan a program for the White House conference on children at Marquette.

Also scheduled is a meeting of school superintendents and school board members in Marquette Jan. 29. Theme for the school administrator's conference is "Developing School Policy."

Hospital Auxiliary
Plans Dinner Meet

D. L. Larson, administrator of Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital, will be the principal speaker when the Hospital Auxiliary meets for a dinner and regular session at 6:30 p. m., Monday in the Presbyterian church. He will discuss the relation of a hospital to the community it serves.

The Women's Association of the Church of the Redeemer has arranged the program for the meeting. It will consist of a piano duet by Mrs. Arthur Hall and Mrs. Marvin Frederickson, and a musical number by the Girls' Choir of the church.

Members of the auxiliary have been invited to bring prospective members as guests.

Senior Students
Compete In Home
Economics Contest

Thirty-eight Manistique High school senior girls today wrote tests to qualify in a nation-wide search for "America's Homemaker of Tomorrow." The tests were given by Mrs. Jerome Hoholik, home economics instructor.

One senior girl in each participating high school will be awarded a gold pin and a cook book, and the school's library will receive a cookbook.

In each state, one senior high school girl is to be selected as senior homemaker of tomorrow and the recipient of the honor will be awarded a $2500 scholarship, an expense-paid trip to Washington, D. C., and a jeweled pin. A set of encyclopedias, will go to the school in which the state winner studies.

The national winner, picked from state homemaker winners, will receive a $3500 scholarship, a diamond-studded pin and a tour of the nation.

The tests covered family relationships, money management, child development, health and safety, and other aspects of home-making.

Bicentennial Will Be Long Story

PITTSBURGH (AP) — When this steel capital observes its bicentennial in 1958 it expects to have published one of the most complete histories of any city in the world.

Author Stefan Lorant has been retained to edit the volume which is expected to run more than 500 pages, have 250,000 or more words of textual matter and at least 750 photographic illustrations.

The project is being financed by several Pittsburgh trusts and foundations.

COSTLY SLEEP
BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Two policemen saw cab driver Edward Coleman sleeping in his taxi-cab and it cost him $10. Seems there's a Birmingham ordinance which prohibits the driver of a public vehicle from using it for snoozing purposes on a public street.

MAKING HIS CONTRIBUTION as the annual March of Dimes began here is Fred H. Hahne, at right, chairman of the Schoolcraft chapter of the American Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. The younger holding the container is Robert Berger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Berger, who returned here shortly before Christmas following hospitalization in Marquette for polio. The drive was off to a big start when members of the Rotary club contributed nearly $70 for the fund at their meeting Monday noon. (Linderth Photo)

Council Meeting
Set For Thursday

The regular meeting of Manistique City Council will be held Thursday night in city hall, beginning at 7:30 p. m.

The session, originally scheduled Monday night, had been postponed until tonight.

Further postponement was made due to county business requiring attention of Councilmen, who also are members of the board of supervisors.

Polio Chairmen
Are Announced

Appointment of township chairmen for the annual March of Dimes drive here, for funds for treatment of polio patients, was announced today by Mrs. A. W. Cockram, drive chairman.

City contributions will be collected under chairmanship of Mrs. Cockram.

In the townships the following are in charge: Manistique, Mrs. Witter Reid; Hiawatha, Mrs. Phyllis McRae; Inwood, Howard Schwartz; Thompson, Mrs. Harry Hastings; Germfask, Mrs. William Caffay; Seney, Mrs. Ernest Tovey; Mueller, Mrs. Luke Wagner; Doyle, Mrs. Ed Bjorkman.

Containers and cards are out, Mrs. Cockram reports, and appeal letters will be mailed shortly. The quota for the county is $2500.

Students Will Attend Traffic
Safety Conference

Attendance of 10 Manistique High School students at a teen-age traffic safety conference in Escanaba Thursday was sanctioned by the Manistique Board of Education in a regular meeting Tuesday night.

The board authorized payment of the youths' expenses and expressed its approval of officials' action in making arrangements for them to attend.

The conference will cover traffic laws and traffic courts, the meaning of driver education for students, teenagers and the family car and development of attitudes in teen-age drivers.

Manistique students who will be attending are Harold Pawley, Edward Busch, Larry Larson, George Phillips, Jack Rogers, Marlene Carlson, Myrna Fish, Donna Larson, Betty McNamara and Carol Swanson.

Meetings will be held in Escanaba Senior High School. James Weber, of Escanaba, is conference chairman, Keith Molin, of Escanaba, vice chairman, and Beverlee Timler, Gladstone, secretary.

The conference is sponsored by the Escanaba Daily Press in cooperation with Northern Michigan College of Education, the State Department of Public Instruction, the Michigan Automobile club, Michigan State Police and public and parochial schools.

New Teachers'
Course Starts
Here Friday

A new extension course for teachers in the Manistique area will begin here Friday night with Miss Flora M. Loubert, history instructor from Northern Michigan College of Education, in charge.

The 3-hour credit class will be on Old World backgrounds. The first session, at the high school here, begins at 5 p. m.

In preceding weeks, an extension course in the methods of social sciences was offered and about 20 teachers were enrolled.

Legion Auxiliary
Boosts Welfare
Activity Here

Members of the American Legion auxiliary donated $26 for welfare work at a regular meeting held Monday night in the Legion clubrooms.

During the session, it was reported that a box of clothing contributions had been given to a needy family. Members now are collecting clothing for two babies.

The auxiliary voted to make its annual contribution for Girls' State, and will select a representative in June.

In card games which followed, Mrs. Anton Weber was first in canasta, Mrs. Bertha Johnson first in 500, and Mrs. John Quigley first in bunc.

Lunch was served with Mmes. Ernest Smith, Emery Barnes, Harvey McLaughlin and James Zellner as hostesses.

One of the recently revised recreation activities in Escanaba is volleyball, with a men's city league formed this winter with great success . . . The group meets each Thursday night from 8 to 10 at the Junior High gym . . . Three teams were in action last week and there were almost enough extra players to form a fourth team . . . If any other men, 20 years of age or older, are interested they are welcome to join the group tomorrow night . . . They say they have a great time on the court and the players are really enjoying it.

Two of the Upper Peninsula's most proficient scorers will be operating on the same court Saturday night when Holy Name entertains Gladstone . . . Crusader center, junior John Berrigan, has scored 218 points in eight games for a 27.25 average per start . . . John Quinn, Gladstone senior pivotman, has picked up 124 in five starts (he didn't see action against Manistique) for a 24.8 average.

In the previous meeting of the two teams, Quinn put 31 points through the nets enroute to an 83-61 victory . . . Berrigan registered 29 . . . Berrigan's high thus far this season was 37 against Bishop Baraga of Marquette and Quinn hit his high of 32 against Newberry.

The Stephenson Eagles are faring quite well in their games with district basketball foes to date . . . Coach Walt Schousen's team has registered wins over Holy Name and Escanaba but lost an early season decision to the Menominee Maroons . . . Those four Class B teams will be involved in the district tournament to be played at the Holy Name gym.

There is a strong possibility that five juniors will be in the starting lineup for Holy Name when the Crusaders face Gladstone Saturday night . . . Coach Tom St. Germain has been working with Gary Paler and Mike Venne at the guards, John Berrigan at center and Arnold Henriksen and Joe Juetten at forwards.

Trenary Ace Hits 37 In Win Over Perkins

TRENARY—A 37-point scoring barrage by Jim Debelak, a 6-foot senior center, paved the way for Trenary's 72-60 upset victory over Perkins in Central League action here last night.

Debelak, in his third season on the Trenary varsity squad, burned the nets with 16 field goals and five free throws as Coach John Hager's quint took command in the second period.

Joe Young's Perkins team led 12-11 at the end of the first quarter but Trenary grabbed a 36-28 lead at the half. Perkins narrowed it to 48-47 at the end of the third period but couldn't match Trenary's 24-point spurge in the final quarter.

The victory was the third this season for Trenary, all of them coming in Central League competition.

Perkins now has lost three against five victories.

Norbert Deloria, Perkins center, set the pace for the losers with 19 points while Marvin Besson chipped in with an even dozen.

Trenary also won the preliminary 7-8th grade game, 49-26.

Ameche Gets Dollars For Yardage Tonight

KENOSHA, Wis. (The Horse) Ameche's gridiron accomplishments will pay off at a dollar a yard tonight in the climax of Kenosha's officially proclaimed "Ameche Day."

The University of Wisconsin's All-America fullback will be honored at a civic banquet by his hometown followers.

Since Ameche broke the collegiate rushing record, citizens hereabouts have been conducting a drive to match his yardage dollar for dollar. He ended his college career with 3,212 yards. The money, along with official title to a Kenosha-built Hudson automobile he got last week, will be handed Ameche tonight.

New Free Throw Bonus Rule Is Vital Factor

(By The Associated Press) People yelling foul over college basketball's free throw rule have something to argue about today. The winners in six major contests Tuesday night scored fewer-or at best, one more—field goals than the losers.

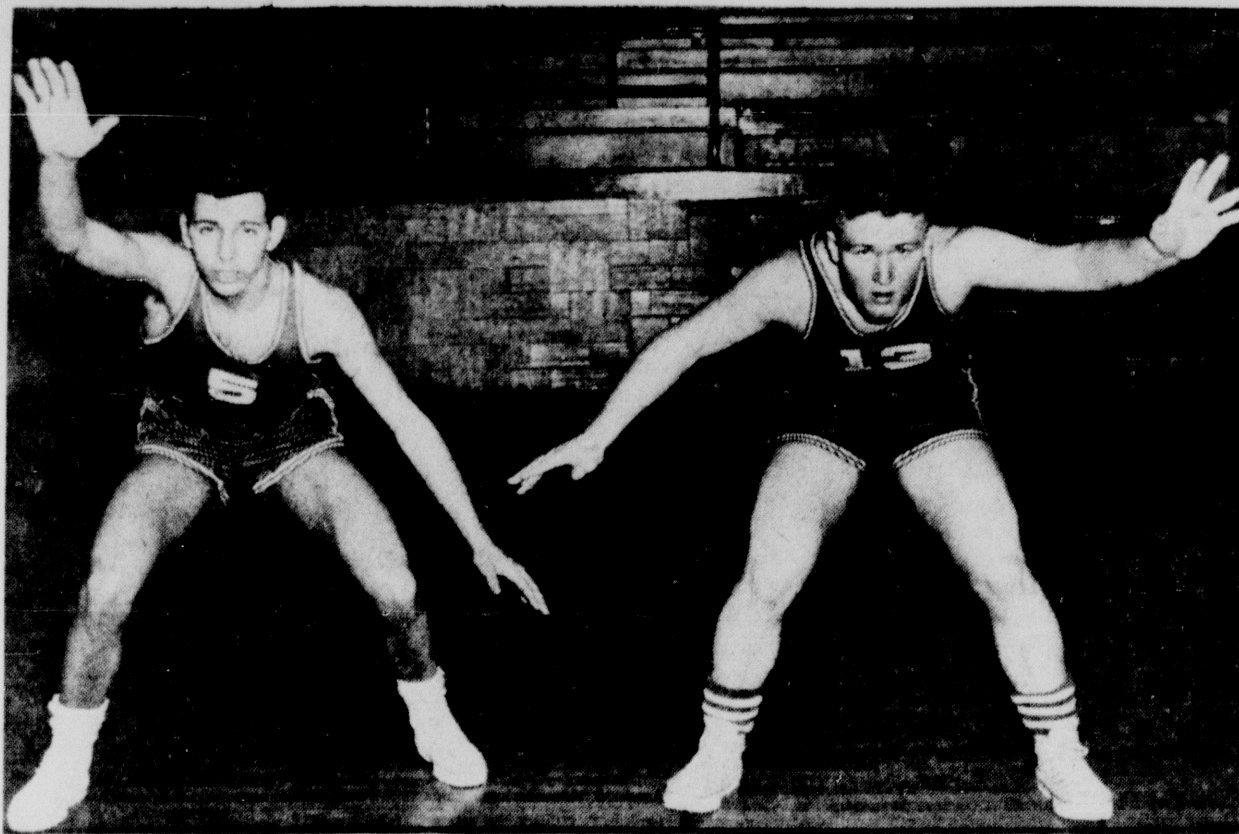

Duke, Yale, Wake Forest, Nebraska, Oklahoma A&M and Niagara all won without a clear-cut verdict from the field.

Duke defeated Clemson 75-66, but had only a 25-24 field goal edge; Yale picked up its first victory of the season 73-63 over Brown, but was outscored 26-25 from the field; Wake Forest topped Seton Hall 71-63, but trailed the Pirates 23-21 in field goals; Nebraska surprised Kansas State 69-59 with a mere 21-20 field goal edge; and Niagara beat Canisius 68-64, although outshot 24-20.

Even On Goals But the biggest talking point for those protesting the rule was the Aggie-Wichita game. The Cowpokes and Wichita were even-up with 13 field goals apiece—yet the Aggies won it in a walk by 16 points, 69-53.

Oklahoma A&M, defending champ in the Missouri Valley Conference, upset the Shockers, previously unbeaten in the conference, 79-64.

Free Shots Cost Esky 69-59 Loss To Eagles

STEPHENSON—The Stephenson Eagles used the free throw line as their most effective weapon here last night to hand the Escanaba Eskymos a 69-59 defeat before a full house.

Coach Walt Schousen's Eagles took advantage of 27 Escanaba personal fouls to score 25 points. They missed 15 shots from the foul line.

Their ability to hit from the free throw line overcame Stephenson's disadvantage from the field where Escanaba outscored them 50-44. The Eskymos had 25 gift shots and converted only nine.

Fouls Hurt Eskymos The Eskymos were handicapped from the start of the game by fouls. Tom Hogan and Mike Heminger both had four fouls in the first period and Heminger was lost in the third quarter. Hogan fouled out with four minutes remaining in the game, with Escanaba trailing by four points.

Bill Bolm and Jack Carlson also drew four personals while Lawrence Sauve had three and Jim Beck two.

The Eskymos took a 17-12 lead in the first period but Stephenson's parade to the free throw line began paying off and the Eagles grabbed a 33-29 edge at the half. Each team scored 19 points in the third period to send the game in the final quarter with Stephenson leading 52-48. The Eskymos were forced to rally in the late stages of the third period after Stephenson had scored seven straight points for a 40-29 advantage early in the period.

Kakuk, Martin Hot The Eskymos battled down to the wire in the fourth quarter but couldn't overtake the tall Eagles. Stephenson's forwards Tom Kukuk and Jerry Martin set the scoring pace with 25 and 22 points.

Bolm led Escanaba on the scoreboard with 16 while Sauve canned 14 and Tom Hogan 10.

Gladstone Indians Practice Tonight

GLADSTONE—The Gladstone Indians will have another practice session tonight at the hockey rink at the Central playground in preparation for a game at Marquette next Sunday, Gordon Haga announces.

About 15 players turned out for the initial session last Saturday and another session was held later.

The juniors also may report tonight and will be given instruction and practice. Haga is interested in getting a junior program under way in order to develop players who eventually may play for the Indians.

Tickets For Saturday Game At Holy Name To Be Returned Thursday

GLADSTONE—Reserved seat adult tickets and student tickets on sale here at the high school for Saturday night's basketball game at Holy Name must be purchased by Thursday. Superintendent Wallace Cameron announced this morning.

Tickets will be returned to Holy Name after Thursday, Cameron said.

The Braves also make a home stand this weekend, entertaining the Stephenson Eagles Friday night.

Hawks Travel To Palestra For Hockey Clash Thursday

One of the hottest rivalries in the Northern Michigan Ontario Hockey League will be resumed when the Escanaba Hawks invade the Palestra to cross sticks with the Marquette Sentinels Thursday night at 8:15.

The contest will carry considerable importance for both teams as the Sentinels crept up into fourth place in the standings by edging the Portage Lake Pioneers 4-3 Sunday. The Hawks can tie the Sentinels for fourth by beating them Thursday night.

Marquette won the first chapter of the 1954-55 series by a 4-2 margin at the Palestra on Dec. 16. But since then the Hawks have developed into a well organized unit and have improved their physical condition considerably.

At Full Strength

The Hawks will be at full strength with Ben Artwich back in the nets and all players available for action. There were no injuries sustained in the weekend contests with Calumet and the Canadian Soo.

Practice sessions Monday and Tuesday nights at the fairgrounds rink will be followed by a polishing drill tonight to sharpen the Hawks' game. Coach Mark Olson was well pleased with the showing of the second line of Tony Mancini, Aimo Muhonen and Warner Wilson this week.

Olson centers the first line with Buddy Provo and Steve Butorac on the wings. Set for action in a third line are Bill Suriano and Bob Higgins.

Defensemen will be Joe Nogalo, Dick Johnson, Clarence Matt,

Volleyball League To Play Thursday

The newly organized Escanaba volleyball league will resume action Thursday evening at the Junior High gymnasium with action scheduled from 8 to 10.

About 20 men over the age of 20 have joined the organization and three teams were in action last week.

Any other persons interested are invited to attend the session tomorrow night, and it may be possible to make up a fourth team so that both volleyball courts will be in use.

Players need gym shoes to take part. Shower facilities are available.

Illinois Track Coach Pan-American Mentor

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Illinois track coach Leo Johnson Tuesday was named to coach the U. S. track team in the Pan-American games at Mexico City in March.

Johnson's Illinois teams have dominated Big Ten track in the last decade.

Sentinels Here Tuesday

Joe Ricci, an Escanaba standout for several years, has begun working into shape and may appear in the Hawks' lineup in the near future. Ricci, a swift forward, played only in the opening exhibition against Houghton Tech this season.

After the trip to Marquette Thursday night the Hawks will travel to Portage Lake Sunday and then return home for a repeat performance against the Marquette Sentinels Tuesday night.

Escanaba fans who are interested in tickets for the game at Marquette may call the Richards Sports Shop in that city for reserved seats.

Jim McNicoll, business manager of the Hawks, announced that a Hockey Association meeting of officers and directors will be held at 8:30 tonight in the Chamber of Commerce office.

Powers Tops Alpha 56-48 For Seventh Straight Cage Win

POWERS—The tall Powers Tigers continued to roll along unmolested in Little Seven Conference competition last night by measuring Alpha 56-48.

The victory was the fifth straight in Little Seven play for Coach Marv Ropele's Tigers. The team has won seven straight games after losing the opener to Rapid River.

Playing without the services of regular guard Don O'Neil, Powers grabbed an 18-14 lead at the end of the period and hung on to take the halftime intermission with a 34-31 margin.

Big John Kocinski, 6-2 forward, kept Alpha in the game with his unerring jump shots in the first half. He hit 22 points in the first two periods.

The Tigers opened a wide gap in the third period to lead by 48-38 entering the final frame. The Mastodons were never able to challenge in the fourth quarter. Kocinski was held to five points in the second half but took scoring honors for the night with 27.

Bill Berg led the Powers attack with 21 points on nine goals and three free throws. Powers outscored Alpha 48-36 from the field but connected on only eight free throws.

Powers lost O'Neil last week when he suffered a leg injury in the game with Felch.

The Powers Bee team won the preliminary game 36-26.

Only Trouble With Spooner Dodgers Needed Him Sooner

By JOE REICHLER
NEW YORK (AP)—Remember this couplet that became almost a lament in Brooklyn last September?
"Just one trouble with Karl Spooner...
"They shoulda had him sooner."
Spooner is the young man who astounded the baseball world by striking out 27 Giants and Pirates in two consecutive shutout victories following his promotion from Fort Worth to the Dodgers last September.

The 23-year-old southpaw will be out to prove he's no flash in the pan when he reports to the Dodgers' Vero Beach, Fla. training camp along with 17 other rookies on March 1. All veteran observers agree that Spooner is a top pitching prospect.

At Fort Worth, despite a knee injury which sidelined him for a month, Spooner won 21 while losing nine and struck out 262 batters in 238 innings to lead all Texas League pitchers.

The bright rookie prospects on the Dodger roster include nine players who were named to all-star teams in their respective leagues.

Chico Fernandez, the flashy Montreal shortstop and Charley Neal, the St. Paul second baseman, may form a Brooklyn key-stone combination in the near future; Ken Lehman was an 18-game winner at Montreal; Bob Darnell, 12-game winner at St. Paul; Bert Hamric, 350 hitting outfielder at St. Paul; Norm Larker, 326 hitting first baseman at Mobile; southpaw Chuck Templeton (9-2) at Union City; Spooner and Joe Pignatone, Brooklyn-born catcher at Elmira.

Fine Fielder
Fernandez, 23 on March 2, was the outstanding fielding shortstop in the International League and batted .282 in 155 games. Neal, 24, hit .282 with 18 homers and 66 runs batted in at St. Paul where he, too, shone on defense.
The 10 new pitchers are divided evenly among righthanders and southpaws. Ed Roebuck (18-14 at Montreal) appears the best among the righthanders. The southpaw contingent includes Sandy Koufax, the 19-year-old Brooklyn high school boy who was given a $20,000 bonus to sign.

The Dodgers have brought up three new catchers. The one with the best chance to stick appears to be bespectacled Charlie Thompson, who batted .305 at Montreal. Pignatone hit only .248 at Elmira and Herb Olson .276 at St. Paul.

Giardello Back In Good Graces

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Joey Giardello, No. 1 middleweight contender, was back in the technical good graces of the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission today after paying a $500 fine in lieu of a 75-day suspension.

The commission Tuesday suspended Giardello, then reinstated him on payment of the fine — resulting from an assault on a gasoline station operator last Oct. 29. Giardello, now awaiting trial on the charge, denies he was involved in a brawl at the South Philadelphia Service Station.

Frank Wiener, commission chairman, said it was felt Giardello's actions had been detrimental to the best interests of boxing but the commission decided to give him another chance.

Giardello now is in training for a 10-round fight with Al Andrews of Superior, Wis., at Norfolk, Va., Jan. 26.

Ex-Jockey Arrested With Hypo Syringe

MIAMI (AP)—Ex-jockey Frank Truschka Jr., 26, was held on a vagrancy charge today after being found Tuesday in the stall of Dixie Style, 7-5 favorite in the first race at Tropical Park.

Jack Loomie, chief of the enforcement detail of the Thoroughbred Racing Protective Bureau, said Truschka was found in the stall by John Kelly, brother of Dixie Style's trainer, 50 minutes before post time, with a hypodermic syringe.

Stewards ordered Dixie Style scratched from the race.
Loomie said Truschka formerly worked for T. J. Kelly, trainer of Dixie Style, as exercise boy but was released on Aug. 31, 1949, when he was suspended by the Illinois Racing Commission on a charge of touting.

Celtics Shatter Court Records

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Boston Celtics staged another record-shattering performance Tuesday night as they bolted into first place in the eastern division race of the National Basketball Assn.

The Celtics who have been averaging over 100 - points - per game this season, outlasted Fort Wayne's western division leaders 119-110 to take over the top slot in the eastern section by one percentage point over the Syracuse Nationals.

In other games the Nats bowed to the Minneapolis Lakers 93-82 and the Milwaukee Hawks turned back the Rochester Royals 93-90.
Boston's 119-point outburst broke the Fort Wayne Coliseum scoring record. Sharp-shooting Bill Sharman paced the Celtics' attack with 37 points, hitting effectively with a one-handed set. Sharman connected for 12 field goals and sank 13 of 14 free throws.

Bob Pettit moved ahead of teammate Frank Selvy in the individual scoring race as the Hawks unleashed a fourth-period rally to top Rochester. Pettit wound up with 31 points — 15 in the final quarter when Milwaukee outscored the Royals 30-17.

Selvy, who entered the game with a one-point lead over Pettit, collected 16 points before fouling out.

Slow-Break Basketball Game Becomes Popular

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Former high school basketball players whose speed has diminished as the years roll by are playing slow-break basketball.

Under high school and college rules, the team with possession must move the ball into the opponent's half of the floor within 10 seconds. But in slow-break basketball, a player may not bring the ball down court until 10 seconds have elapsed.

Slow-break basketball has caught on so fast that six teams are already organized in a league in Hamilton. The players are in the middle and late 20s.

Auburn Is Lone Unbeaten Team

AUBURN, Ala. (AP)—A group of "little guys" running around and giving it all they've got all the time" make up the nation's only major unbeaten basketball team, the Auburn Tigers.

They have won seven games already, and that's more than most experts thought they'd take in the whole season. The Tigers have won two Southeastern Conference games and also have a December tournament victory over Tennessee.

In this day of 7-footers, Auburn's tallest players are Gordon Mumert, a 6-4 center, and Kay Slayden, also 6-4 and Mumert's replacement.

Next in height is forward Jim O'Donnell at 6-3. Henry Sturkie, the other forward, is 6-1. Bill Kirkpatrick, at 5-10, and Brownie Nelson, 5-11, are the regular guards. Top reserves are Jim Diamond, 6-2 forward, and Byrd Whigham, 5-8 guard.

Rate Castellani Slight Favorite

CLEVELAND (AP)—Rocky Castellani, the No. 2 contender for Bobo Olson's middleweight title, meets the No. 3 man, Holly Mims, tonight in a 12-round bout at Cleveland Arena.

Castellani lost to Olson on points in a bout at San Francisco last summer and is now ranked behind Joey Giardello, the No. 1 contender.

Mims, a 25-year-old from Washington, D. C., has never been knocked out and is working on a string of 12 straight bouts without a defeat. Since October 1952 he has won 11 and fought one draw. Castellani, 27 years old, has 57 victories on his record, six losses and a draw. Mims' record: 35 victories, 11 losses and five draws. Betting favored the Clevelander 6-5 but there were indications the odds might even off by 9 p.m. (CST) when the bout is scheduled to be televised over the Columbia Broadcasting System.

Feud Boiling Over Who'll Carry Mail

NEW YORK (AP)—Who'll carry the mail for Uncle Sam is a multi-million-dollar question these days. It brings to sharp focus the deadly rivalry between the railroads, on the one hand, and the airlines and truckers on the other.

The feud came to a boil in October 1953 when the Post Office launched an "experiment" of flying first class 3-cent mail on the New York-Chicago and Washington-Chicago routes whenever airlines had space available for it. The experiment was broadened to include Florida points and local airlines covering 125 scattered communities. This deprived the rails of sizable mail revenues.

The railroads got even madder, when the experiment spread to include major Pacific coast cities last November.

But Postmaster General Summerfield reported last month that in the initial stage of the West Coast "air lift" ordinary letters bearing 3-cent stamps had been advanced in delivery by from 24 to 48 hours.

"To date the 3-cent mail by air experiment is improving mail service at slight savings in overall cost to those formerly paid," said Summerfield.

The railroads protested that the savings were only apparent and ignored the "complete" mail service rendered by the rails.

The industry complains that it has invested close to a billion dollars in mail handling facilities whereas the airlines and truckers have invested nothing and the taxpayers must provide these for them.

The diversion of mail, they add, if carried to the limit, means that the railroads will suffer a potential loss of 300 million dollars a year. This will threaten the jobs of many of the 50,000 rail employees who handle mail and compel cancellation of hundreds of passenger trains now operating near the break-even point, they say.

The airlines and truckers argue that, just as the railroads succeeded the canal boat and stage coach as mail carriers, the railroads themselves must give way, at least to some degree, before more modern means of transportation.

Bridgeport Man Has Brief Freedom

DANBURY, Conn. (AP)—Dale Boas, 22, of Bridgeport was sentenced to a year in jail on charges involving an accident with a truck he had stolen.

Good behavior won him release after serving three months of the term. But within six hours he was back in police custody.

The charges? Theft of two motor vehicles, and one of them wrecked.

WHAT, NO DIET KITCHEN?—You're bedridden in a hospital. You want to wash up. Do you ring for a nurse to bring basin and water? Not if you have one of these new push-button beds, just unveiled at Stanford University Hospital in San Francisco. As the patient in the photo presses a button, a wash basin, completely connected by flexible pipe with the water supply comes up at left. Other buttons will bring forth such comforts as automatic knee, arm and back supports, built-in flush-toilet, baby bassinets, stretcher on wheels, bed-oscillating machinery and built-in scales. The super-gadget was invented by Dr. Marvel Beem, Los Angeles surgeon.
